Providing Inspection, Control

President, Nehru Agree On Test Ban Pact Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and Indian Prime Minister Nehru have "agreed on the urgent need for a treaty banning nuclear tests with necessary provision for inspection and control."

The agreement was contained in a communique issued Thursday after Nehru completed four days of talks with the President. The Indian leader flies to New York today.

Nehru's acceptance of the U.S. position on the need for controls indicated some slight modification in the Indian position.

The Indian delegation at the United Nations had held to the line that the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union should forego all testing, pending an agreement on an inspected test ban treaty.

At the same time, Nehru apparently has not accepted the U.S. claim that the resumption of underground testing by the United States—and perhaps of future atmospheric testing—is fully justified on the grounds of self-preservation. Nehru has said he is flatly opposed to any nuclear tests by anyone.

Kennedy pointed out that the Soviet Union had broken a previous, informal test ban and "reaffirmed the United States' unwillingness to accept a further uncontrolled test moratorium."

Earlier, at a National Press Club luncheon, the Indian leader called the Soviet resumption of nuclear testing "a very harmful, disastrous thing."

Nehru also said he thought "Russia today aims at and desires peace." And, he added, the downgrading of the late dictator Joseph Stalin "raises my hopes for world peace."

In the 700-word joint communique, Kennedy and Nehru called their more than 15 hours of talks since last Monday "highly useful, pleasant and rewarding."

A basis was laid for continuing close personal communications in the months ahead, the communique said.

The communique said Kennedy had assured Nehru "that every effort would be made to seek a solution of the Berlin problem by peaceful means, and underlined the importance of the choices of the people directly concerned."

It said Nehru concurred with Kennedy "in the legitimate and necessary right of access to Berlin."

Task Begins To Identify Plane Victims

Army Says Families Will Be Notified As Work Progresses

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Army assembled teams of experts today to begin the grim and difficult task of identifying the bodies of the 77 victims of the flaming crash of an airliner carrying recruits to camp for training.

The bodies of the 74 recruits and 3 of the plane's crew are being moved today from a temporary morgue here to the fieldhouse at Ft. Lee. There men of the Army's recovery and disposition units will seek to make identifications.

The Army said all available resources will be used in an effort to speed the process. Families of the victims will be notified officially as the work progresses.

The Army said Thursday that no positive identification had been made yet. But a spokesman said there were clues such as personal effects and teeth.

The Civil Aeronautics Board has flown personnel to Richmond to investigate the circumstances of the crash of the Imperial Airlines Constellation near here on Wednesday night.

The four-engine craft crashed into a wooded swamp near Richmond's Byrd Airport a few hours after the 74 new soldiers parted from their families for training at Ft. Jackson, S.C. Only two crew members escaped from the twisted, burning wreckage.

Recruits To Travel By Train And Bus

WASHINGTON (AP) —Recruits from the 1st Army area will be sent to training camps by train and bus until an investigation is completed into the plane crash at Richmond, Va., which killed 74 recruits.

The Department of the Army said today the decision was made by headquarters of the 1st Army area at Governor's Island, N.Y.

The 1st Army area includes the New England states, New Jersey and New York.

Atlas Missile Explodes And Monkey Dies

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A tiny monkey named Goliath died in the flaming explosion of an Atlas missile high over the Cape today.

Officials reported 20 minutes after the launching there was no chance that the small passenger had withstood the great explosion. His space capsule, tucked in the Atlas nose cone, had no escape mechanism.

The Air Force reported the range safety officer destroyed the missile when it became erratic in flight. Technicians began studying tapes of radio information relayed from the missile in an effort to learn what went wrong.

The missile was an advanced Atlas E model, this nation's most powerful military rocket. The earlier, more reliable Atlas D series will be used in the U.S. man-in-space program. A D Atlas is scheduled to boost a chimpanzee into orbit from the Cape next week and a man on an orbital flight hopefully by the end of the year.

Cutoff's Due Wednesday For City Tax

Employers who withhold city income tax from employes' wages should continue this through next Wednesday, when repeal of the law is scheduled to become effective, following official certification of returns from the general election Tuesday in which the tax was rejected for the fourth time, the tax office at City Hall reminded today.

Forms for paying the tax for the period between Oct. 1 and Nov. 15 will be placed in the mail not later than Wednesday, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said. Employers will have until Dec. 31 to file the returns, along with the funds withheld, he said.

State law provides that an initiative ordinance takes effect five days after the official count has been certified. The "cutoff date" for the tax ordinance is expected to be next Wednesday, based on the County Election Board's expectation that it will make the official certification tomorrow.

Individuals subject to the tax but not subject to withholding were reminded that their gross earned income between Jan. 27 and Nov. 15 also is taxable. Forms for final returns from individuals will be mailed soon, Wilkinson said

Wilkinson said a few individuals failed to pay taxes for the period through Sept. 30. He said the returns should be "filed at the earliest possible opportunity to avoid any action by the tax office." The ordinance empowers the office to take legal action for non-payment of tax.

Staff Cut Seen In Courthouse

Officeholders Due At Meeting Monday

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have called a special meeting with all officeholders in the Courthouse for Monday at 4 p.m. in Courtroom I to discuss a fund crisis, probably requiring a staff cut, as the result of the levy defeats in Tuesday's election.

Walter Hunston, president of the Board of County Commissioners, will discuss the failure of the eight - tenths - mill operating levy needed to operate the offices for the coming year.

Voters soundly defeated the operating levy and the seven-tenths mill levy for the county home. The courthouse operating levy was designed to bring in $160,000 and the home levy $140,000 for three years.

County Auditor Kenneth Bell will be asked to give his estimate of the amount of real estate taxes he expects to collect next year. It has been estimated that a 20 per cent cut will be required in each office if no further revenue is received.

There is a possibility that commissioners will resubmit the two issues in a special election, which would cost approximately $18,000.

Commissioners discussed the financial situation at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon.

The board authorized the attendance of Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach of North Georgetown and Deputy Warden Harold McCall at the state association's meeting Dec. 11-14 in Columbus.

The commissioners will meet Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Write-In Vote Of Huge Field Impedes Tally

Board May Finish Official Canvass Work By Tonight

Continuing work on the official canvass of returns from the general election Tuesday, the County Election Board's staff today was in the midst of the monumental task of recording votes for about 150 write-in candidates for five seats on the Board of Education of the newly-merged Southern - Franklin Local School District.

As no candidates' names were printed on the ballot, all five posts will be filled by the write - in votes. Three are to be named for four-year terms and two are for two-year tenures.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the staff recorded votes for 72 individuals for the four-year terms. When the race for the two - year terms is recorded, there will be at least that many candidates' names to list, possibly more, he said.

The Election Board was forced to improvise huge new abstract sheets to list all the candidates' names, as it had none large enough.

"I think we will set a new world's record for the number of candidates for school board posts, O'Hanlon said facetiously.

Work on the official canvass began Thursday morning. O'Hanlon said it is unlikely the count will be finished tonight. He said the work probably will extend into Saturday morning.

However if there is a possibility of finishing the count by working overtime, the staff will remain tonight, he said. In any event, the certification will be made under Saturday's date, O'Hanlon said.

The final outcome of several close contests, including a race for a Board of Education seat in East Liverpool, will not be known until the official count is completed.

Meanwhile, the Election Board has sent reminders to candidates who sought office Tuesday, along with committees that supported or opposed candidates or issues, that they must file sworn statements of campaign expenditures.

The deadline for the reports is Dec. 22 at 4 p. m

Candidates must file the reports whether or not they were successful, O'Hanlon pointed out. Receipted invoices must be submitted for any item in excess of $25, he added.

State law provides that any candidate who fails to file a report by the deadline will be barred from running for public office for five years, O'Hanlon warned.

Burglary At Newell Nets $280, Battery

Burglars obtained $280 in cash and a battery in a breaking and entering sometime Thursday night at Raimond's Esso Service Center, 505 Washington St., Newell.

Entry was gained by breaking a hole through a window on the north end of the building. A wire apparently was used to unlock the latch, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

No fingerprints were found on the unlocked cash register from which the cash was lifted.

The entry was discovered this morning when the station opened by Jim Raimond, proprietor, deputies said. An investigation is continuing. Two suspects were questioned today and released.

U.S. Expert, 4 Navy Men Die In Crash

4 Others Injured; Plane On Way Back From Antarctic

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—A University of Minnesota scientist and four U.S. Navy men died Thursday night in the crash of a Navy plane homeward bound from a magnetic mapping flight across the frozen Antarctic.

The other four Navy men aboard the P2V7A Neptune were reported injured but the extent of their injuries was not immediately learned.

The Navy Neptune crashed as it was taking off from Australia's Wilkes Station on the last leg of a 2,900-mile flight over largely unexplored areas of the ice-capped continent. The expedition left the main U.S. base here Monday and spent two days at the Soviet scientific base at Mirny, on the Indian Ocean.

The Minnesota scientist, Dr. Edward C. Thiel, 33, had made magnetic measurements from the air which were expected to help throw light on geological mysteries below the icy wastelands.

Navy officials said the expedition—a phase of "Operation Deep Freeze 62"—was by far the longest airborne scientific flight ever undertaken by the United States in Antarctica.

It also was the first American aerial mission to the Soviet Union's Mirny base. A Soviet mission flew direct from Mirny to McMurdo by way of the South Pole in 1958 and American scientists are regularly stationed at the Soviet base.

A University of Ohio biologist, Dr. Madison Pryor, made the flight to Mirny but remained there. He is to spend the coming year at the Soviet base under the scientific exchange system the United States and the Soviet Union carry on in the Antarctic.

Employes Flee Store In Gas Bomb Mishap

A tear gas bomb, part of an anti-burglary devide on a safe, exploded without apparent cause this morning at 10 at the Shaw Jewelry Co. store, 513 Washington St., forcing Jack Shaw, the proprietor, and eight employes to flee outside with streaming eyes.

Shaw said the device is arranged to explode during a safe burglary attempt, but it let go this morning without apparent cause, filling the store with the noxious fumes. Some of the fumes were detected in the basement of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store next door.

"We all started to cry so we decided to get outside," Shaw said. "But we greeted our customers on the sidewalk. "It just went 'bang,' about like a light bulb exploding." Shortly after 11 the store resumed business as usual, amid a lingering odor of the fumes.

Procedure's Similar To West's Ideas

4-Point Program Presented Allied Envoys In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)— A new Soviet proposal on Berlin and Germany was viewed by diplomatic quarters here today as making one concession to the West that might lead to negotiations.

The future of Communist-surrounded West Berlin would be discussed first under the Kremlin's new plan, reported Thursday by authoritative circles in the Soviet capital. The questions of recognition of Communist East German sovereignty and writing of a German peace treaty, which Premier Khrushchev has long held to be more urgent, would follow on the agenda.

This reversal in procedure is in line with Western thought that the independence of West Berlin and Western rights there are of the most vital concern and that Khrushchev has been putting the cart before the horse.

But old snags remained evident. At no point did the Soviets indicate they had changed their basic demands to end the Allied occupation of West Berlin, which they have campaigned to convert into a "demilitarized free city."

Nor did they give ground on their demands for Western recognition of the Communist East German regime as a sovereign government and for a German peace treaty.

The Soviet proposals apparently were presented informally but definitely this week to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany through their ambassadors in Moscow. The aim was clearly to permit negotiations to begin.

Authoritative circles said the Soviet proposals would set up this schedule:

1. The Big Four occupying powers should reach an agreement on a new status for West Berlin that guarantees the freedom of its people and freedom of communication between the city and the West.

2. A separate agreement should be reached between Communist East Germany and the Soviet Union by which East Germany would undertake to respect the new status of West Berlin and accept the guarantees of freedom for its people and communication.

3. The Western powers should agree to respect the sovereignty of East Germany, and West Germany should specifically accept this agreement. The measure of recognition of East German sovereignty was not defined, but the West German government is not likely to agree to anything approaching formal recognition of the division of Germany.

4. Finally a peace treaty would be worked out with Germany. This presumably refers to an all-German treaty. Khrushchev has said repeatedly he would sign a peace treaty with East Germany if the all-Germany was not concluded, although he has lifted his threat to do it by Dec. 31.

U.S. Infantry Shuttles Over Red Highway

Arrives Safely In West Berlin After Making Crossing

BERLIN (AP)—First elements of a motorized U.S. infantry company arrived in West Berlin today, beginning a new armed shuttle across the Communist-patrolled highway from West Germany.

Lt. Richard P. Jennings, 25, of Cincinnati, Ohio, headed the vanguard. He reported no difficulties with the Soviets or anyone else.

The journey across the 110-mile stretch of Communist East Germany took three hours and 40 minutes. The U.S. soldiers, wearing steel helmets and full battle dress, were checked for 45 minutes at the Marienborn checkpoint. The Russians counted them, but did not force them to dismount. Twenty minutes was spent at the U.S. Babelsberg checkpoint outside Berlin.

The first group of about 60 men rode into Berlin aboard four jeeps, two ¾-ton trucks, and three 2½-ton trucks with trailers. A recoilless rifle was mounted on one of the jeeps.

Two additional groups were following to complete the movement into Berlin of Co. D of the 1st Battle Group, 15th Infantry, 3rd Division.

Aims At Altitude Mark Now

X15 Rocket Plane Roars To Record 4,070 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket ship, forerunner of the space ship that will take man to the moon in this decade, has achieved one of its twin goals—record speed. Now it will be aimed at record altitude.

Air Force Major Bob White opened it up all the way in level flight Thursday and set a new speed mark of 4,070 miles per hour — six times the speed of sound, twice as fast as a rifle bullet.

Next week another pilot, Joe Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will point the X15 skyward and try for a new altitude record of 250,000 feet.

Four thousand miles an hour and 250,000 feet—this is what the stubby-winged black Sky Dart was designed to achieve.

It already has reached 217,000 feet, last October 11 with White in the cramped cockpit.

That day, as Thursday, swift temperature changes of more than 1,000 degrees in less than three minutes splintered the outer panel of his windshield.

"I expect the metal frame holding the windshield will be modified before the altitude attempt," White said after his flight.

Fund Appeal Swings Into Windup Stage

Community Fund campaign leaders today prepared to send special "windup" workers into action preparatory to ending the current drive by Nov. 17.

Richard Emmerling, campaign chairman, and Carl Werner, campaign secretary, were meeting today to make "a complete analysis of contributor lists in all 10 of the campaign divisions". Emmerling pointed out that the evaluation "probably would reveal some untouched areas", or some contributors "who could be persuaded to make their gifts more generous ones". He felt, too, that volunteers could be spurred into completing their "call-backs" and submitting final reports to drive headquarters at the YMCA if additional help was offered by leaders.

Emmerling said "nearly three-fourths of the goal of $77,600 has been achieved thus far. Gifts and pledges total $56,769 to date. At least three divisions are close to 100 per cent of their unit quota. The Public Service Division leads with 99 per cent, followed by Public Affairs with 96 per cent and the Professional Division with 93 per cent. We expect these three units to hit the 100 per cent mark within the next two days."

"We will, of course, continue our efforts until every area citizen has been given the opportunity to contribute to the Community Fund," Emmerling stated, "for our goal of $77,600 is the minimum amount needed by the six fund agencies to carry on their services locally. It is therefore vital that we meet that goal promptly."

Emmerling urged volunteers to continue their efforts and turn in reports as quickly as possible. He suggested, too, that anyone who has not yet been contacted may send their gift or pledge to Community Fund headquarters in the YMCA or may phone Fulton 5-2082 and a worker will be sent.

Autoist Hurt In Wreck At Newell Bridge

Steubenville Driver Injured Slightly In 2nd Hancock Crash

A Newell man is hospitalized today with injuries received Thursday night in a crash at the Newell Bridge in one of two accidents investigated by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

A Steubenville woman escaped serious injury in the second mishap after her new convertible sheared off a utility pole and plunged over an embankment near Pughtown.

Homer Martin Jr., 28, of 407 Grant St., Newell, is in "good" condition at City Hospital with a lacerated forehead.

Deputies said Martin was driving south on Route 66 when he swerved to avoid striking another car whose driver had ignored a stop sign in pulling onto Route 66 from the West Virginia side of the bridge.

Martin successfully avoided striking the auto that pulled suddenly into his path, but lost control and hit an embankment on the left side of the highway, deputies said.

The mishap occurred at 10:20. Deputies were unable to obtain a description of the other auto.

Jeanette Marshall, 48, escaped with only abrasions of the knee, ankle and eye when her 1961 convertible went off Route 2 at Pughtown, tore out seven guardrails, sheared off a utility pole and plunged over a 30-foot embankment.

She was treated at Weirton General Hospital and released. Her new Chevrolet couple was demolished, deputies said. She lost control on a slight curve south of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission.

Ex-City Councilman's Car Damaged Heavily

A former city councilman's auto was damaged heavily when struck by a hit-skip car Thursday night, he told police.

A. Stanley Kidder, 2112 Michigan Ave., told police he parked his 1959 four - door sedan about 6 p.m. on W. 5th St. 30 feet west of West Alley. When he returned 45 minutes later, he entire front end had been damaged by a hit-skip vehicle, he said.

A collision at Jackson St. and Summit Ln. Thursday at 3:45 p. m. damaged a 1959 car driven by George R. Myers, 46, of 1839 Ohio Ave. and a 1960 compact sedan operated by James H. Johnston, 34, of 1129 Vine St., officers said.

A tear gas bomb, part of an anti-burglary devide on a safe, exploded without apparent cause this morning at 10 at the Shaw Jewelry Co. store, 513 Washington St., forcing Jack Shaw, the proprietor, and eight employes to flee outside with streaming eyes.

Shaw said the device is arranged to explode during a safe burglary attempt, but it let go this morning without apparent cause, filling the store with the noxious fumes. Some of the fumes were detected in the basement of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store next door.

"We all started to cry so we decided to get outside," Shaw said. "But we greeted our customers on the sidewalk. "It just went 'bang,' about like a light bulb exploding." Shortly after 11 the store resumed business as usual, amid a lingering odor of the fumes.

U.S. Infantry Shuttles Over Red Highway

Arrives Safely In West Berlin After Making Crossing

BERLIN (AP)—First elements of a motorized U.S. infantry company arrived in West Berlin today, beginning a new armed shuttle across the Communist-patrolled highway from West Germany.

Lt. Richard P. Jennings, 25, of Cincinnati, Ohio, headed the vanguard. He reported no difficulties with the Soviets or anyone else.

The journey across the 110-mile stretch of Communist East Germany took three hours and 40 minutes. The U.S. soldiers, wearing steel helmets and full battle dress, were checked for 45 minutes at the Marienborn checkpoint. The Russians counted them, but did not force them to dismount. Twenty minutes was spent at the U.S. Babelsberg checkpoint outside Berlin.

The first group of about 60 men rode into Berlin aboard four jeeps, two ¾-ton trucks, and three 2½-ton trucks with trailers. A recoilless rifle was mounted on one of the jeeps.

Two additional groups were following to complete the movement into Berlin of Co. D of the 1st Battle Group, 15th Infantry, 3rd Division.

Aims At Altitude Mark Now

X15 Rocket Plane Roars To Record 4,070 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X15 rocket ship, forerunner of the space ship that will take man to the moon in this decade, has achieved one of its twin goals—record speed. Now it will be aimed at record altitude.

Air Force Major Bob White opened it up all the way in level flight Thursday and set a new speed mark of 4,070 miles per hour — six times the speed of sound, twice as fast as a rifle bullet.

Next week another pilot, Joe Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will point the X15 skyward and try for a new altitude record of 250,000 feet.

Four thousand miles an hour and 250,000 feet—this is what the stubby-winged black Sky Dart was designed to achieve.

It already has reached 217,000 feet, last October 11 with White in the cramped cockpit.

That day, as Thursday, swift temperature changes of more than 1,000 degrees in less than three minutes splintered the outer panel of his windshield.

"I expect the metal frame holding the windshield will be modified before the altitude attempt," White said after his flight.

Fund Appeal Swings Into Windup Stage

Community Fund campaign leaders today prepared to send special "windup" workers into action preparatory to ending the current drive by Nov. 17.

Richard Emmerling, campaign chairman, and Carl Werner, campaign secretary, were meeting today to make "a complete analysis of contributor lists in all 10 of the campaign divisions". Emmerling pointed out that the evaluation "probably would reveal some untouched areas", or some contributors "who could be persuaded to make their gifts more generous ones". He felt, too, that volunteers could be spurred into completing their "call-backs" and submitting final reports to drive headquarters at the YMCA if additional help was offered by leaders.

Emmerling said "nearly three-fourths of the goal of $77,600 has been achieved thus far. Gifts and pledges total $56,769 to date. At least three divisions are close to 100 per cent of their unit quota. The Public Service Division leads with 99 per cent, followed by Public Affairs with 96 per cent and the Professional Division with 93 per cent. We expect these three units to hit the 100 per cent mark within the next two days."

"We will, of course, continue our efforts until every area citizen has been given the opportunity to contribute to the Community Fund," Emmerling stated, "for our goal of $77,600 is the minimum amount needed by the six fund agencies to carry on their services locally. It is therefore vital that we meet that goal promptly."

Emmerling urged volunteers to continue their efforts and turn in reports as quickly as possible. He suggested, too, that anyone who has not yet been contacted may send their gift or pledge to Community Fund headquarters in the YMCA or may phone Fulton 5-2082 and a worker will be sent.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio motorists can have their licenses and registrations suspended if judgments against them are made in other states, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy said in an opinion issued Thursday.

Autoist Hurt In Wreck At Newell Bridge

Steubenville Driver Injured Slightly In 2nd Hancock Crash

A Newell man is hospitalized today with injuries received Thursday night in a crash at the Newell Bridge in one of two accidents investigated by Hancock County sheriff's deputies.

A Steubenville woman escaped serious injury in the second mishap after her new convertible sheared off a utility pole and plunged over an embankment near Pughtown.

Homer Martin Jr., 28, of 407 Grant St., Newell, is in "good" condition at City Hospital with a lacerated forehead.

Deputies said Martin was driving south on Route 66 when he swerved to avoid striking another car whose driver had ignored a stop sign in pulling onto Route 66 from the West Virginia side of the bridge.

Martin successfully avoided striking the auto that pulled suddenly into his path, but lost control and hit an embankment on the left side of the highway, deputies said.

The mishap occurred at 10:20. Deputies were unable to obtain a description of the other auto.

Jeanette Marshall, 48, escaped with only abrasions of the knee, ankle and eye when her 1961 convertible went off Route 2 at Pughtown, tore out seven guardrails, sheared off a utility pole and plunged over a 30-foot embankment.

She was treated at Weirton General Hospital and released. Her new Chevrolet couple was demolished, deputies said. She lost control on a slight curve south of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission.

Procedure's Similar To West's Ideas

4-Point Program Presented Allied Envoys In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)— A new Soviet proposal on Berlin and Germany was viewed by diplomatic quarters here today as making one concession to the West that might lead to negotiations.

The future of Communist-surrounded West Berlin would be discussed first under the Kremlin's new plan, reported Thursday by authoritative circles in the Soviet capital. The questions of recognition of Communist East German sovereignty and writing of a German peace treaty, which Premier Khrushchev has long held to be more urgent, would follow on the agenda.

This reversal in procedure is in line with Western thought that the independence of West Berlin and Western rights there are of the most vital concern and that Khrushchev has been putting the cart before the horse.

But old snags remained evident. At no point did the Soviets indicate they had changed their basic demands to end the Allied occupation of West Berlin, which they have campaigned to convert into a "demilitarized free city."

Nor did they give ground on their demands for Western recognition of the Communist East German regime as a sovereign government and for a German peace treaty.

The Soviet proposals apparently were presented informally but definitely this week to the United States, Britain, France and West Germany through their ambassadors in Moscow. The aim was clearly to permit negotiations to begin.

Authoritative circles said the Soviet proposals would set up this schedule:

1. The Big Four occupying powers should reach an agreement on a new status for West Berlin that guarantees the freedom of its people and freedom of communication between the city and the West.

2. A separate agreement should be reached between Communist East Germany and the Soviet Union by which East Germany would undertake to respect the new status of West Berlin and accept the guarantees of freedom for its people and communication.

3. The Western powers should agree to respect the sovereignty of East Germany, and West Germany should specifically accept this agreement. The measure of recognition of East German sovereignty was not defined, but the West German government is not likely to agree to anything approaching formal recognition of the division of Germany.

4. Finally a peace treaty would be worked out with Germany. This presumably refers to an all-German treaty. Khrushchev has said repeatedly he would sign a peace treaty with East Germany if the all-Germany was not concluded, although he has lifted his threat to do it by Dec. 31.

Ex-City Councilman's Car Damaged Heavily

A former city councilman's auto was damaged heavily when struck by a hit-skip car Thursday night, he told police.

A. Stanley Kidder, 2112 Michigan Ave., told police he parked his 1959 four - door sedan about 6 p.m. on W. 5th St. 30 feet west of West Alley. When he returned 45 minutes later, he entire front end had been damaged by a hit-skip vehicle, he said.

A collision at Jackson St. and Summit Ln. Thursday at 3:45 p. m. damaged a 1959 car driven by George R. Myers, 46, of 1839 Ohio Ave. and a 1960 compact sedan operated by James H. Johnston, 34, of 1129 Vine St., officers said.

School Board Opens Bid On 66-Seat Bus

Bids for a new 66 - passenger bus for Fairfield - Waterford School District were opened by the Board of Education at a meeting Thursday night at the Crestview High School near Middleton.

O. S. Hill of Lisbon asked $6,990; Columbiana Motors, $7,422; Wooley's Chevrolet of Leetonia, $7,400, and Midway Motors of Route 7, $7,170. The bids include trade-in on a 1960 bus. The district operates 11 buses and one spare.

Funds for the bus are to be obtained from a new 1-mill operating levy which was approved in Tuesday's election, 449-268. The board, which took the bids under study, expressed appreciation for public support of the levy.

The board approved plans for consolidating the various fund drives in the school into a united campaign. The concerted drive will turn funds over to the Student Council for distribution to such groups as Cerebral Palsy, March of Dimes, Multiple Sclerosis, Cancer, Heart, Red Cross and Junior Red Cross.

George Garrod, board member, and Joseph Driscoll, executive head, were authorized to attend the convention of the American Association of School Administrators at Atlantic City in February.

A salary adjustment was approved for James Hawkins, driver training instructor, for extra time.

Discussion was held on obtaining an insurance policy for boilers at the schools.

The board still is considering an adult education program, it was announced, but registration in courses offered so far has not warranted beginning a course. The present registration shows six signed for bookkeeping, five for typing, shop and physial fitness, four for art and photography. At least 10 are required to start a course and registration will continue.

The board expressed appreciation to Theron Lamoncha for contribution of flags at the new school, to the Papania Market for 45 gallons of cider to the school for Halloween, and to Mrs. Herbert Weaver for help in organizing the school library.

Driscoll announced the Fairfield Education Association will meet Monday night at 8 at the Waterford School.

A school fair will be sponsored by the New Waterford Parent-Teacher Organization Nov. 17 at the Waterford School.

A public chicken and steak dinner is planned Nov. 18 at the Crestview School by the Fairfiled PTO.

The New Waterford PTO will meet Nov. 20. A style show will be held at Crestview Nov. 30 by the seniors. The first basketball game will be at home Dec. 1 with North Lima.

Next board meeting is Dec. 14.

25 Attend Discussion On Care Of Flooring

LISBON — Twenty - five attended the second meeting on "Care of Smooth - Surface Floor Coverings" at the Lisbon Grange Hall Thursday, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

Clubs in Center, Wayne, Franklin and Hanover Townships were represented.

British Girl Wins Title Of 'Miss World'

LONDON (AP) — A British beauty who placed second in the Miss Universe contest in Miami Beach two months ago was named Miss World on her home territory Thursday night.

She was the first British girl to win a major beauty competition.

The international contestants as usual indulged in considerable acrimony after an earl, a duchess and seven other judges awarded the title to brown-haired, blue-eyed Rosemarie Frankland, 18, a model. But the tantrums dissolved, probably temporarily, as the 37 girls danced and drank champagne until the early hours at the Cafe de Paris.

The U.S. entry, Jo Ann Odum of Huntington, W. Va., was among the seven finalists but didn't place in the money.

Comedian Bob Hope crowned Miss Frankland and saluted her as "the most beautiful girl I ever saw." When the girls started bickering, Hope commented soothingly: "Name any of these girls and I'll say they deserved to win. I want peace."

Rosemarie won 2,500 pounds ($7,000) and a movie test but said, "My ambition is to be a glamorous wife." Her measurements are par for beauty contest winners in the Monroe-Bardot age—36-22-36.

Lions In Chester Hear Area Aide In Official Visit

"The Spirit of Lionism" was the theme of a talk by C. E. Queen of Fairmont, District 29-L governor, in an official visit to the Chester Lions Club Thursday night.

About 33 attended the "Ladies Night" dinner meeting at the First Christian Church.

Queen said a member finds the true spirit of Lionism when he shares in providing his less fortunate fellowmen with the necessities of life or in rendering a community service.

He said the Lions International, which will be 50 years old in 1967, has grown to be the world's largest service organization with over 600,000 members in 100 countries.

Entertainment included a musical program presented by Mrs. Lillian Wagner of Georgetown. A quiz program was also conducted with prizes for winners.

Dinner was served by women of the church. The program was arranged by John Abrams, Paul Barnhart and Thomas Wehner.

Walter Jordan, president, was in charge.

21 Tons Of Food Given In October

LISBON — Over 21 tons of surplus food was distributed in October to Columbiana County's needy, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft said today.

A breakdown shows the distribution included:

16,376 pounds of dried milk, 10,300 of flour, 2,897 of lard, 3,083 of butter, 2,264 of dried eggs, 6,684 of beans, 5,730 of beef, 3,510 of rolled oats and 2,425 of peanut butter

The 43,269 pounds were issued to 3,163 persons at the four distributing points — East Liverpool Central Fire Station, Wellsville City Building, Salem City Building and Lisbon warehouse.

On a stringed musical instrument, the bridge is the support that lifts the strings from the body of the instrument.

He was born in Italy Feb. 27, 1893, and came to hte United States as a child. He was married in Lisbon.

Besides his widow, he leaves two sons, three daughters, 22 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at the St. Joseph's Cathedral in Wheeling with burial in Mt. Calvary Cemetery there.

Locals To Study IBOP Proposals On Merger Plan

The International Brotherood of Operative Potters said today it has sounded out its local unions on the question of merging some of the smaller units.

Representatives of local unions have been asked to determine the membership opinion on the question of a voluntary merger with another local or locals, the IBOP said.

There are 23 locals of the IBOP in the East Liverpool area, most of them organized according to a particular craft. As they represent workers in nine plants, there are 207 "grievance outlets" channeled into international headquarters, the IBOP said.

The IBOP cited the new constitution's stipulation on mergers: "The Executive Board shall have the authority and the power to consolidate and amalgamate local unions with less than 100 members with any other local or locals when the board determines that such action is in the best interests of the members of the locals concerned."

Crew Installs 2 Poles For W. 8th St. Signals

A city crew today began installation of two wooden utility poles on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St., a prelude to installation of a traffic light system at the busy intersection that has been out of service about two months because of freeway construction work in the area.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said the signal system may be in service again early next week. The poles which will support the lights are being installed by the electrical department and the street department.

The lights were taken out of service and the poles were removed approximately two months ago when the foot of Lisbon St. was closed for the freeway work and traffic was detoured via former Chestnut St. and W. 9th St. The two poles will cost approximately $70, as against an estimated $480 for metal poles, Owen said.

Road Parker Fined

LISBON — Chauncey A. Boone Jr., 29, of Hanoverton R.D. was fined $2 and costs for parking on a highway at a hearing Thursday before County Judge James L. MacDonald. Charles B. Carson, 45, of Canonsburg forfeited a $20 appearance bond for failing to stop within the assured distance. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Senior Citizens Welcome 19 As New Members

Nineteen new members were welcomed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall, raising the membership close to the 100-mark.

About 75 persons attended, the largest turnout since it was organized last summer.

Mayor Bert Goodballet spoke briefly and assured the group that he would help promote it in every way.

Tentative plans were made to form a chorus but a piano is needed first, Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom, advisor, said.

A Christmas party and fund-raising projects also were discussed.

The flag salute was followed with devotions by Mrs. Lillian Potter and business by Mrs. Sam Hall, president. The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, spoke briefly.

Mrs Grace McHenry, secretary, and Mrs. Ethel Hagerman, treasurer, gave reports.

A turkey dinner will highlight the meeting next Thursday at 5 p. m. for "Walk-in" day.

An Executive Board meeting will be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the VFW hall.

The meeting closed with the theme song, "When Good Friends Get Together," led by Mrs. Maude Falconer, who also read a poem she wrote.

The "trading stamp," which is so popular in today's economy, was used as far back as the 1890's, the dry-goods stores of that era being proponents of the system.

New Waterford Man Gets 1-15-Year Term

A New Waterford man was sentenced Thursday after probation was denied and an Aliquippa man was placed on five years probation by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Charles G. McKnight, 35, was sentenced to 1-15 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary for the burglary of the Herman Esterly garage on April 30. He had pleaded guilty and requested probation but the court said his record was not good.

Eugene Simmons Jr., 27, was given probation on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon after he pleaded guilty to cutting Henry Roach Jr. of Virginia Ave., East Liverpool, with razor on May 18 at the Veterans Social Club in East End.

Traffic Safety Talk Given At PTA Meeting

Police Chief Harold Davis spoke on traffic safety at a meeting of the Grandview Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school, near Chester.

Plans were discussed for a public spaghetti supper in the near future. Pamphlets on national education week were distributed.

The attendance banner was won by the first grade taught by Mrs. Dora Greenawalt. Refreshments were served by the first - grade mothers, Mrs. Ruby Adkins and Mrs. Patricia McDole.

Russell Smith, president, was in charge. A Christmas program will be presented at the next meeting Dec. 19.

what's new at Olsen's?

"Ollie Olsen"

Pre-Christmas Buys

New and colorful dresses and coats for the cold weather days. Holiday time is almost here — whether you are a stay-at-home or a social butterfly, milady wants to look and feel her best at this special holiday season.

There's fashion excitement in the new winter coats now being shown at Olsen's. Simply stated in beautiful shapes . . . whether your pleasure runs to the freedom of flares or the discipline of straight lines. Coats that will definitely keep you warm in a fashionable way. Monotone tweeds, soft-to-the-touch solid colors, gay sparkling plaids — coats of high fashion but low in cost. There's sure to be a coat to fit you in this Fall collection — whether you are average or petite.

How would you like to wrap yourself in luxury with a new cashmere coat. Particularly if its at a price you can afford. Olsens just received a group of these luxurious cashmeres. Surely great news for you who appreciate a finely made coat, want the ultimate in warmth and wear. The prize of precious fabrics at its most beautiful because the quality goes deep down. Fashioned in the ever popular clutch style, with a softly rolled collar, and tapered sleeves with beautiful sunhurst stitching across the back. You'll love the soft feel of this elegant fabric. If you want to really feel pampered, just try on a cashmere coat. Then you will know how lucky you are to be a woman. The amazing part of these wonderful cashmeres is the price, just 59.95. Just what you would pay for an ordinary coat. Remember this is a special buy. So why not take advantage of this price now. The colors are black and nude in size 6 petite to 16. Remember the price is only 59.95.

We found a fashion scoop for the shorter woman — 5 foot 3 and under. One of the best-known woman's dresses in the country is Olsen's exclusively in this district. "Korell" is the name. "Korell" means prefect fit "Korell" means newest styles. Best of all, "Korell" means they are priced to fit any budget. "Korell" comes in plus sizes (instead of the old half-sizes) 12 plus to 24 plus. If you are one of these women with a figure problem, your problem is gone, if you buy one of the new "Korells," dresses especially designed smaller thru the shoulders, shorter in the waist line, the skirts are made to exact length, your choice of gored or sheath skirts, too. The necklines are made to flatter the shorter woman.

The colors are so exciting this fall. Milady has thrown that old idea of black out the door. Now she wears the same glamorous colors that her daughter wears, and looks just as lovely. These plus sizes are in all the most wanted fabrics . . . crepes, matte jersey, wool jersey . . . and the newest blends. "Korell" designers did not forget style either. These dresses are just as smart on the plus size figure as the sizes 12 are on a smaller woman.

My advice to you — if you have a figure problem — is to stop in at Olsen's dress department and try these wonderful-fitting dresses on. See for yourself. Be satisfied.

Have you started to think about Christmas yet or are you one of the smart ones who have already started buying her Christmas gifts? Now is the perfect time, no rush, shop leisurely, none of the last minute hustle and bustle. You should see the soft, frilly lingerie we found in Olsen's lingerie department today. As light and airy as cotton candy. There's so many different items to choose from. Lacy, frilly, slips, gossmar sheer gowns, dainty lace trim, half slips of sheer nylon. Dusters and robes in so many different styles and fabrics. All priced from 1.88 up.

Remember its not too early to start your Christmas shopping now. For your pleasure Olsen's are open every night until nine. That's all today. See you Friday.

School Board Opens Bid On 66-Seat Bus

Bids for a new 66 - passenger bus for Fairfield - Waterford School District were opened by the Board of Education at a meeting Thursday night at the Crestview High School near Middleton.

O. S. Hill of Lisbon asked $6,990; Columbiana Motors, $7,422; Wooley's Chevrolet of Leetonia, $7,400, and Midway Motors of Route 7, $7,170. The bids include trade-in on a 1960 bus. The district operates 11 buses and one spare.

Funds for the bus are to be obtained from a new 1-mill operating levy which was approved in Tuesday's election, 449-268. The board, which took the bids under study, expressed appreciation for public support of the levy.

The board approved plans for consolidating the various fund drives in the school into a united campaign. The concerted drive will turn funds over to the Student Council for distribution to such groups as Cerebral Palsy, March of Dimes, Multiple Sclerosis, Cancer, Heart, Red Cross and Junior Red Cross.

George Garrod, board member, and Joseph Driscoll, executive head, were authorized to attend the convention of the American Association of School Administrators at Atlantic City in February.

A salary adjustment was approved for James Hawkins, driver training instructor, for extra time.

Discussion was held on obtaining an insurance policy for boilers at the schools.

The board still is considering an adult education program, it was announced, but registration in courses offered so far has not warranted beginning a course. The present registration shows six signed for bookkeeping, five for typing, shop and physial fitness, four for art and photography. At least 10 are required to start a course and registration will continue.

The board expressed appreciation to Theron Lamoncha for contribution of flags at the new school, to the Papania Market for 45 gallons of cider to the school for Halloween, and to Mrs. Herbert Weaver for help in organizing the school library.

Driscoll announced the Fairfield Education Association will meet Monday night at 8 at the Waterford School.

A school fair will be sponsored by the New Waterford Parent-Teacher Organization Nov. 17 at the Waterford School.

A public chicken and steak dinner is planned Nov. 18 at the Crestview School by the Fairfiled PTO.

The New Waterford PTO will meet Nov. 20. A style show will be held at Crestview Nov. 30 by the seniors. The first basketball game will be at home Dec. 1 with North Lima.

Next board meeting is Dec. 14.

25 Attend Discussion On Care Of Flooring

LISBON — Twenty - five attended the second meeting on "Care of Smooth - Surface Floor Coverings" at the Lisbon Grange Hall Thursday, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

Clubs in Center, Wayne, Franklin and Hanover Townships were represented.

British Girl Wins Title Of 'Miss World'

LONDON (AP) — A British beauty who placed second in the Miss Universe contest in Miami Beach two months ago was named Miss World on her home territory Thursday night.

She was the first British girl to win a major beauty competition.

The international contestants as usual indulged in considerable acrimony after an earl, a duchess and seven other judges awarded the title to brown-haired, blue-eyed Rosemarie Frankland, 18, a model. But the tantrums dissolved, probably temporarily, as the 37 girls danced and drank champagne until the early hours at the Cafe de Paris.

The U.S. entry, Jo Ann Odum of Huntington, W. Va., was among the seven finalists but didn't place in the money.

Comedian Bob Hope crowned Miss Frankland and saluted her as "the most beautiful girl I ever saw." When the girls started bickering, Hope commented soothingly: "Name any of these girls and I'll say they deserved to win. I want peace."

Rosemarie won 2,500 pounds ($7,000) and a movie test but said, "My ambition is to be a glamorous wife." Her measurements are par for beauty contest winners in the Monroe-Bardot age—36-22-36.

Lions In Chester Hear Area Aide In Official Visit

"The Spirit of Lionism" was the theme of a talk by C. E. Queen of Fairmont, District 29-L governor, in an official visit to the Chester Lions Club Thursday night.

About 33 attended the "Ladies Night" dinner meeting at the First Christian Church.

Queen said a member finds the true spirit of Lionism when he shares in providing his less fortunate fellowmen with the necessities of life or in rendering a community service.

He said the Lions International, which will be 50 years old in 1967, has grown to be the world's largest service organization with over 600,000 members in 100 countries.

Entertainment included a musical program presented by Mrs. Lillian Wagner of Georgetown. A quiz program was also conducted with prizes for winners.

Dinner was served by women of the church. The program was arranged by John Abrams, Paul Barnhart and Thomas Wehner.

Walter Jordan, president, was in charge.

21 Tons Of Food Given In October

LISBON — Over 21 tons of surplus food was distributed in October to Columbiana County's needy, Welfare Director Robert Bycroft said today.

A breakdown shows the distribution included:

16,376 pounds of dried milk, 10,300 of flour, 2,897 of lard, 3,083 of butter, 2,264 of dried eggs, 6,684 of beans, 5,730 of beef, 3,510 of rolled oats and 2,425 of peanut butter.

The 43,269 pounds were issued to 3,163 persons at the four distributing points — East Liverpool Central Fire Station, Wellsville City Building, Salem City Building and Lisbon warehouse.

On a stringed musical instrument, the bridge is the support that lifts the strings from the body of the instrument.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims City Wife, 74

Mrs. Mary (Susie) Price, 106 E. 3rd St., wife of Harry N. Price, died Thursday about 10:30 p.m. at City Hospital, following a lingering illness. She was 74.

Born in Covington, Va., she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Evans. She was a resident here for 55 years. She was a member of Pride of Valley Council 4, Daughters of America, the auxiliary of the Eagles Aerie and the Ladies Auxiliary 2119, World War I Veterans.

Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, W. P. (Dick) Stockdale of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Harry R. Price of East Liverpool; two daughters, Mrs. Myrtle Richardson and Miss Grace Price, both of East Liverpool; a sister, Mrs. M. F. Bermeister of St. Petersburg, Fla., and six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by John N. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday.

Merle Bartram

Merle W. Bartram, 403 Burrows Ave., an electrician at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., died this morning at City Hospital, where he had been a patient six weeks. He was 57.

He was born in Hammondsville to William Taylor Bartram and Mary Ella Call Bartram. He served in the Army. He was a member of Steelworkers Local 1212.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ruth Bartram at home; five daughters, Mrs. Lela Clutter, Mrs. Shirley Gaskill and Mrs. Mary Ellen Clendenning, all of East Liverpool, and Miss Thelma Bartram and Miss Ruth Bartram at home; two sons, Merle E. Bartram and William T. Bartram, also at home; a brother, Lloyd Bartram of Wintersville, and nine grandchildren.

Services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville by Dr. A. K. Davison, pastor of the East Liverpool First United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery near Hammondsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Tom Fulmer

Mrs. Katherine M. Fulmer, 1004 Lisbon St., wife of Tom B. Fulmer, died Thursday at 11:15 p.m. at her home after a long illness. She was 74.

Born in Wellsville to Marion Hendricks and Blanche Marie Conner Hendricks, she resided here for about 60 years. She was employed last in the dipping department of the Taylor Smith & Taylor Co. and retired in 1930.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a brother, John Hendricks of Glenmoor, and two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 3:30 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. James Hunton, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene. Burial will be in the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday.

Frank Papini

LISBON — Frank C. Papini, 68, of Wheeling, husband of Josephine Sinacara Papini, a former resident of Lisbon, died Wednesday morning at his home of an illness.

He was born in Italy Feb. 27, 1893, and came to hte United States as a child. He was married in Lisbon.

Besides his widow, he leaves two sons, three daughters, 22 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at the St. Joseph's Cathedral in Wheeling with burial in Mt. Calvary Cemetery there.

Locals To Study IBOP Proposals On Merger Plan

The International Brotherood of Operative Potters said today it has sounded out its local unions on the question of merging some of the smaller units.

Representatives of local unions have been asked to determine the membership opinion on the question of a voluntary merger with another local or locals, the IBOP said.

There are 23 locals of the IBOP in the East Liverpool area, most of them organized according to a particular craft. As they represent workers in nine plants, there are 207 "grievance outlets" channeled into international headquarters, the IBOP said.

The IBOP cited the new constitution's stipulation on mergers: "The Executive Board shall have the authority and the power to consolidate and amalgamate local unions with less than 100 members with any other local or locals when the board determines that such action is in the best interests of the members of the locals concerned."

Crew Installs 2 Poles For W. 8th St. Signals

A city crew today began installation of two wooden utility poles on W. 8th St. at Lisbon St., a prelude to installation of a traffic light system at the busy intersection that has been out of service about two months because of freeway construction work in the area.

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen said the signal system may be in service again early next week. The poles which will support the lights are being installed by the electrical department and the street department.

The lights were taken out of service and the poles were removed approximately two months ago when the foot of Lisbon St. was closed for the freeway work and traffic was detoured via former Chestnut St. and W. 9th St. The two poles will cost approximately $70, as against an estimated $480 for metal poles, Owen said.

Road Parker Fined

LISBON — Chauncey A. Boone Jr., 29, of Hanoverton R.D. was fined $2 and costs for parking on a highway at a hearing Thursday before County Judge James L. MacDonald. Charles B. Carson, 45, of Canonsburg forfeited a $20 appearance bond for failing to stop within the assured distance. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Senior Citizens Welcome 19 As New Members

Nineteen new members were welcomed at a meeting of the East Liverpool Senior Citizens Group Thursday afternoon in the VFW Hall, raising the membership close to the 100-mark.

About 75 persons attended, the largest turnout since it was organized last summer.

Mayor Bert Goodballet spoke briefly and assured the group that he would help promote it in every way.

Tentative plans were made to form a chorus but a piano is needed first, Mrs. Rozella Hickenbottom, advisor, said.

A Christmas party and fund-raising projects also were discussed.

The flag salute was followed with devotions by Mrs. Lillian Potter and business by Mrs. Sam Hall, president. The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, spoke briefly.

Mrs Grace McHenry, secretary, and Mrs. Ethel Hagerman, treasurer, gave reports.

A turkey dinner will highlight the meeting next Thursday at 5 p. m. for "Walk-in" day.

An Executive Board meeting will be held Tuesday at 1 p. m. in the VFW hall.

The meeting closed with the theme song, "When Good Friends Get Together," led by Mrs. Maude Falconer, who also read a poem she wrote.

The "trading stamp," which is so popular in today's economy, was used as far back as the 1890's, the dry-goods stores of that era being proponents of the system.

New Waterford Man Gets 1-15-Year Term

A New Waterford man was sentenced Thursday after probation was denied and an Aliquippa man was placed on five years probation by Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

Charles G. McKnight, 35, was sentenced to 1-15 years at the Ohio State Penitentiary for the burglary of the Herman Esterly garage on April 30. He had pleaded guilty and requested probation but the court said his record was not good.

Eugene Simmons Jr., 27, was given probation on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon after he pleaded guilty to cutting Henry Roach Jr. of Virginia Ave., East Liverpool, with razor on May 18 at the Veterans Social Club in East End.

Traffic Safety Talk Given At PTA Meeting

Police Chief Harold Davis spoke on traffic safety at a meeting of the Grandview Parent - Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school, near Chester.

Plans were discussed for a public spaghetti supper in the near future. Pamphlets on national education week were distributed.

The attendance banner was won by the first grade taught by Mrs. Dora Greenawalt. Refreshments were served by the first - grade mothers, Mrs. Ruby Adkins and Mrs. Patricia McDole.

Russell Smith, president, was in charge. A Christmas program will be presented at the next meeting Dec. 19.

Gas Firm Reports Decline In Earnings

The Consolidated Natural Gas Co. and subsidiaries report net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 of $24,390,938, or $2.69 per share.

The Peoples Natural Gas Co., which serves Midland and other parts of Beaver County, and the New York State Natural Gas Corp. both headquartered at Pittsburgh, are subsidiaries.

Net income for the same period in 1960 was $27,996,837, or $3.10 a share, which included a profit from the sale of property of $1,640,000 after tax, equivalent to 18 cents per share.

what's new at Olsen's?

"Ollie Olsen"

Pre-Christmas Buys

New and colorful dresses and coats for the cold weather days. Holiday time is almost here — whether you are a stay-at-home or a social butterfly, milady wants to look and feel her best at this special holiday season.

There's fashion excitement in the new winter coats now being shown at Olsen's. Simply stated in beautiful shapes . . . whether your pleasure runs to the freedom of flares or the discipline of straight lines. Coats that will definitely keep you warm in a fashionable way. Monotone tweeds, soft-to-the-touch solid colors, gay sparkling plaids — coats of high fashion but low in cost. There's sure to be a coat to fit you in this Fall collection — whether you are average or petite.

How would you like to wrap yourself in luxury with a new cashmere coat. Particularly if its at a price you can afford. Olsens just received a group of these luxurious cashmeres. Surely great news for you who appreciate a finely made coat, want the ultimate in warmth and wear. The prize of precious fabrics at its most beautiful because the quality goes deep down. Fashioned in the ever popular clutch style, with a softly rolled collar, and tapered sleeves with beautiful sunhurst stitching across the back. You'll love the soft feel of this elegant fabric. If you want to really feel pampered, just try on a cashmere coat. Then you will know how lucky you are to be a woman. The amazing part of these wonderful cashmeres is the price, just 59.95. Just what you would pay for an ordinary coat. Remember this is a special buy. So why not take advantage of this price now. The colors are black and nude in size 6 petite to 16. Remember the price is only 59.95.

We found a fashion scoop for the shorter woman — 5 foot 3 and under. One of the best-known woman's dresses in the country is Olsen's exclusively in this district. "Korell" is the name. "Korell" means prefect fit "Korell" means newest styles. Best of all, "Korell" means they are priced to fit any budget. "Korell" comes in plus sizes (instead of the old half-sizes) 12 plus to 24 plus. If you are one of these women with a figure problem, your problem is gone, if you buy one of the new "Korells," dresses especially designed smaller thru the shoulders, shorter in the waist line, the skirts are made to exact length, your choice of gored or sheath skirts, too. The necklines are made to flatter the shorter woman.

The colors are so exciting this fall. Milady has thrown that old idea of black out the door. Now she wears the same glamorous colors that her daughter wears, and looks just as lovely. These plus sizes are in all the most wanted fabrics . . . crepes, matte jersey, wool jersey . . . and the newest blends. "Korell" designers did not forget style either. These dresses are just as smart on the plus size figure as the sizes 12 are on a smaller woman.

My advice to you — if you have a figure problem — is to stop in at Olsen's dress department and try these wonderful-fitting dresses on. See for yourself. Be satisfied.

Have you started to think about Christmas yet or are you one of the smart ones who have already started buying her Christmas gifts? Now is the perfect time, no rush, shop leisurely, none of the last minute hustle and bustle. You should see the soft, frilly lingerie we found in Olsen's lingerie department today. As light and airy as cotton candy. There's so many different items to choose from. Lacy, frilly, slips, gossmar sheer gowns, dainty lace trim, half slips of sheer nylon. Dusters and robes in so many different styles and fabrics. All priced from 1.88 up.

Remember its not too early to start your Christmas shopping now. For your pleasure Olsen's are open every night until nine. That's all today. See you Friday.

Democrats' Horrible Examples

President Kennedy says he is overjoyed at Democratic successes in New York City, the state of New Jersey and a congressional district in Texas.

He pointed out in his press conference this week that he would have been blamed if Democrats had lost in these places. Therefore, he is entitled to feel good because they won.

But we doubt that this young Democratic politician who catapulted himself from Massachusetts into the White House is as overjoyed about the state of affairs in New York City as he says he is.

Beating a Republican candidate in cities like New York and Cleveland is like beating a small girl whose hands have been tied behind her; there's nothing heroic about it. The Democratic party has laced together an organization with racial and religious ties that is the model for every other organization of its kind in the United States.

The toughest problem of the Republican party—and so regarded by party strategists—is how to develop a two-party system in the nation's largest cities.

In New York, Democrats have pre-empted political power so completely that even when they split, as the did this year, they can't lose.

Robert F. Wagner, running for a third term, was opposed not only by a stand-in Republican candidate running for his health but by a Democrat running with the backing of the regular Democratic organization. Mayor Wagner still could win in a walk, though he pretended he and Tammany Hall were feuding.

The Republican party has no hope of capturing New York—no more than it has of capturing Cleveland. Yet the Democratic party's strength in cities like these is so overwhelming it has started to be a weakness.

It has turned into the horrible example for Americans elsewhere of what is possible when the two-party system collapses and governments cease to be answerable to voters. In one of the trickiest shifts of all time in one-party politics, Mayor Wagner ceased to be a Tammany-backed official last summer and became a late-blooming reformer, to avoid running on a record of his own failure.

New York was in trouble under his Democratic administration before Election Day. The Wagner administration had been embarrassed deeply by evidence of mismanagement and corruption. Under normal circumstances voters would have "thrown the rascals out"; that would have been the two-party way.

But New York City is not governed under normal circumstances. The same mayor who had presided over its drift into deterioration under Democratic sponsorship was presented to Democratic voters as their savior by another bunch of Democrats.

All over the United States people take note of Hanky-Panky like this in Democrat-dominated cities and resolve they won't let it happen to them if they can help it.

President Kennedy has a right to be overjoyed about a Democratic victory. But there's nothing to celebrate about victories that cost more than they're worth. That's what may have happened in New York this year.

Millions of Americans have stiffened their resolve to keep the big-city Democratic stranglehold from being inflicted on their small cities and suburban communities.

A Time To Turn Away

There is special poignancy in airplane crashes that take the lives of the young, especially young soldiers. The Richmond, Va., crash that killed 74 Army recruits—the nation's second worst military disaster of its kind—has left millions of us depressed.

And almost as bad as the depression caused by the crash is the chilling realization that even if any young men had survived the crash and the fire that consumed the wreckage they might not have survived the morbid crowd that collected.

Rescue efforts would have been bogged down in traffic jams. Roads would have been blocked. Fire engines couldn't have reached the scene. Ambulances would have been blocked off the roads. Doctors and nurses couldn't have got through.

This disgraceful performance by a mob isn't peculiar to Richmond. It can be staged on a minute's notice anywhere in the United States where large numbers of people live close together. It has happened at LaGuardia Airport in New York City when word spread that a passenger plane might crash. It could happen anywhere. It could happen here.

It does happen when there are fires. It can happen where floods occur—and tornadoes. The morbid flock to the scene to see the destruction and suffering. If there were stadiums, they would fill them to the rim, the way Roman mobs filled the Colosseum to watch human beings die — and the way they pack the Indianapolis Speedway.

The greatest hazard of firefighters in the suburbs and the country is the crowds that gathers, blocking roads. It is, likewise, one of the hazards of rescue workers in airplane crashes and all other disasters. Perhaps nothing can be done about it, ever. But is it too much to hope that some day most people, out of decent consideration for others, might learn there's a time to turn away from the sight of human suffering.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

U. S. interior secretary's ascent of Mt. FiJi, Japan, is causing jealousy in Washington. Peak scaled is 12,397 feet high. That's higher than President Kennedy's climb from Choate School, Wallingford, to White House, and even more sensational than Secretary Goldberg's trip from adviser to steel union to secretary of labor post. Then there was Mr. McNamara's perilous climb from Detroit production line to Potomac job embracing moon flights.

Udall's Mt. Fiji exploit makes President Kennedy's trips by helicopter and attempts to explore Nehru's mind on yacht Honey Fitz seem old hat and anything but daring.

Secretary of interior reached peak in 5 hours and 15 minutes. Not even Robert Kennedy's climb from McClellan committee to peaks overlooking General Electric and Westinghouse Corporation ethics and DuPont-GM hassel touches this, although on a clear day the attorney general can see possible conviction of Jimmy Hoffa.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas is reported miffed. He was Washington's man in charge of mountain climbing, up to the Udall exploit. Our off - the - cuff street interviews brought these opinions:

Mortimer Topblower: This was a victory for Democratic administration. Republicans can't get back until they climb Himalayas and bag Abominable Snowman.

Elmer Twitchell: I think Udall put Secretary Rusk, Secretary Goldberg and others in Japan at the time in a very embarrassing position. They hadn't even brought rope."

Pettigrew Bilge: "I see where Udall had to fight winds of 60 miles an hour. This set new high for windiness outside of Cabinet sessions."

Oscar Widgeon: "America needs emphasis on mountain climbing to offset fact Americans have been softened up by years of using escalators to second floors and climbing hills only by auto."

POST ELECTION JOY

How grand to turn the TV on.
As all the noise abates,
And on my screen behold no glimpse
Of any candidates!

"IT IS OBVIOUS the Soviets broke moratorium and were largely responsible for new situation," said Premier Nehru on TV program, adding in response to question what advice he would give to free world. "I would not presume to advise anybody." What's so wrong about a little advice when civilization is at stake. If "advice" is wrong word, how about a few words indicating indignation at broken agreements and plain dishonest?

Giant tuna caught off Bahamas and tagged with metal disk turned up in Norwegian waters. This shows those costumes and equipment of tropical anglers can really scare a fish.

We listened to TV discussion of psychiatry by four eminent members of profession the other day and it left us convinced that psychiatrists are in greater need of psychiatric treatment than most patients are.

Barbers convention in New York revealed shaves are not high. He charges $4.50 for what he calls a "package deal," embracing haircut, shave, shampoo, dryer, etc. We understand the large economy-sized package includes opinions on baseball, football, world crisis and atomic bomb tests.

("Lone rooster crowing in New York apartment house area resulted in high indignation and call to police"—News item.)

Manhattan hears a rooster crow
And to the phone the people go:
Now squad cars to the rescue race. . . .
The city has a problem case!

Attention Navy, U.S.A. . . .
A rooster has the town at bay!
Manhattan's fearless in a clutch,
BUT ONE LONE ROOSTER IS TOO MUCH!

Imaginary dialogue in great Soviet mausoleum crisis.

Stalin: Do you hear a peculiar noise?

Lenin: I was just going to ask you the same question.

Stalin: I have a distinct feeling somebody is coming in here.

Lenin: I have a feeling somebody is going OUT!

Stalin: Aren't we here as inseparable symbols of Communism?

Lenin: That was our belief, and one of us is stuck with it. I observe figures approaching your bier.

Stalin: I was placed here by a written decree with no expiration clause.

Lenin: You didn't read the small type.

Stalin: Oh THAT Khrushchev! And to think he was once a subordinate! How dared he?

Lenin: It's something about brushing off the cult of personality. Nikita is against glorifying individuals.

Stalin: How about you?

Lenin: I think I am safe but I am beginning to wonder.

Stalin: They're wheeling me out. This is it. I'm sorry to leave you. It's a terrible place to be alone.

Lenin: Yes, it will be awfully creepy around here now, and quite an ordeal listening to millions of visitors file by and ask: "What became of the other one?"

Stalin: I wonder if it's all part of a replacement program?

Lenin: This is a tomb, not a TV show.

Stalin: Yeah but the direction is similar.

Casket Mover (as if a little perplexed): I wonder if I left anything here?

Lenin (in alarm): Don't look at me!

The Farmer's Daughter Comes Home

Kennedy Eyes Political Trails

By Victor Riesel

Strange reports seeping into the White House have been alarming President Kennedy's political strategists. There have been serious breaks inside the Democratic ranks.

Victor Riesel

Some of this revolt has been organized by groups which seriously fear a Soviet invasion and actually wear shoulder holster guns at their socials in southwestern sections of the land — and I do not here refer to the California "survival" bands training in the hills.

Some antagonism to the White House has spread across the entire southern belt because of an uneasiness over the operations of Cuban agents in Mexico.

This truly is not what worries the strategists. What more deeply disturbs them are defections in concentrated industrial areas and some big cities not industrial at all.

There have been many private conversations — and off the record phone calls — between the White House men and labor leaders in the big towns.

FROM MANY districts the word was that the big city labor leaders and party officials might not be able to hold the rank and file during the generally undramatic municipal campaigns — and that the results could well be dramatic if there were heavy losses and slim victory margins.

At this point John F. Kennedy decided to make sorties in person, by special letter and long distance telephone into the big communities.

Behind this decision is the memory of a brilliant political report made to the Kennedys by Ted Sorensen some five years ago. Mr. Sorensen, a devotee of anonymity, now is more than just special counsel to the President. He is a most trusted and sagacious confidant of JFK.

And with good reason. It was in 1956 that Mr. Sorensen blueprinted Mr. Kennedy's stategy for victory. This was in a special report which said in effect that Mr. Kennedy could win the nomination and election if he concentrated on seven heavily industrialized and populated areas.

Among them were the metropolitan districts of New York — New Jersey, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Cleveland and Detroit.

JOHN KENNEDY did just that. He won. Richard Nixon took a majority of the states but that did not help the Republicans.

Nixon carried, for example, a vast majority of the counties in Michigan. But he lost Wayne County (Detroit) and so lost Michigan.

If the Democrats could not repeat those victories in the metropolises, they were in real difficulties. They were disturbed by reports of aggressive Republican organization in San Antonio where the GOP had put up a congressional candidate for the first time since 1948. This was the Gonzalez-Goode contest.

The Democrats' concern was apparently justified. Henry Gonzalez, deeply respected by a strong following, finally ran some 10,000 votes ahead of the Republican. But the GOP got some 45 per cent of the vote this past Nov. 4, compared with 20 per cent in 1948.

The last time Gonzalez ran for state senator he won by 37,000 votes. This time he took the congressional seat by 10,000. Last time he rolled up 79 per cent of the vote. This time it ran about 55 per cent. In effect, this makes the district a "marginal" one by political definition, and Rep. Gonzalez must now run for office again in a year.

IF ALL THIS was developing in the Democratic stronghold of San Antonio, in Texas, what of the trend in the northern cities?

And was this the development in all big communities?

Since the Democrats are weak in rural areas, weakness in strong labor centers would be disastrous in '62 and '64.

Not many folks take the trouble to count our population centers. But the White House strategists —and the tacticians on the other side — do.

Only recently a survey disclosed that 70 per cent of the people live in cities now. More than 100 million are concentrated in 212 metropolitan areas. Of these the bulk are in such centers as the New York metropolitan area, now running higher than 20 million (depending, of course, on where you close the circle).

To hold such areas, Jack Kennedy decided to do it himself, as he did it in New York and New Jersey. His Cabinet people will hit the road, too. But so will he whenever he gets the chance and that chance is consistent with the dignity of the presidency of the United States.

He is not forgetting, nor will he permit those around him to forget, the lessons of the 1956 blueprint for victory.

Nehru Complex, Troubled

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

It is no wonder President Kennedy and Indian Prime Minister Nehru, after four days of talks, issued a statement which shows they still disagree on some issues this coutry considers major.

Nehru, who is just four days short of being 72 and spent more than 13 years in British jails fighting for Indian independence which was won in 1947, is a complex and troubled man.

Sometimes in public statements from the American view and probably from the Russian also, he can be an irritating man who acts with an air of superior wisdom as if talking down his nose to a couple of deadend kids in a dynamite room.

There are also times, at least from the American view, when he looks like a confused man. For instance: when he calls for self-determination for Portuguese Angola but hedges about the same thing for Communist-held East Germany.

It has been said of him that he is a great Indian leader but a poor world one. Yet, he is forever talking on world affairs. He couldn't avoid it.

As head of more than 438 million people—more than in the United States and Soviet Russia combined—he's involved in the world in a big way and yet cannot bring his country into the 20th century without outside help.

He's jarred Americans, whose aid he has accepted, and he's jarred the Russians, who recently pledged India more than a half billion dollars, by disagreeing with both on some issues.

Because of this he is the prime example of the problem this country has in dealing with the leaders of many backward nations:

His idea of what's right, wrong or necessary—judged from where he stands and by his problems—cannot possibly coincide with the American or Russian views, or their interests, in every situation.

For this reason, and because of the size and importance of his nation, he does represent a view shared, some of the time if not always, by others among the so-called neutralists.

He made this point himself Thursday at the National Press Club when, asked whether he thinks the "neutrals have been fair to the United States," he said:

"The problem is difficult to answer on behalf of other countries. But please remember that all these countries are full of their own problems. Questions like this and such questions as Berlin and Germany are at the fringes of their minds."

Still, while he has fairly ready answers for others' problems, he has some of his own still unresolved. For instance, his dispute with the government of Pakistan over the state of Kashmir or with the Red Chinese over their invasion of India.

He still hasn't been able to cope with one of his most tormenting internal problems: the increase of 10 million people a year in India's population.

And even his economic progress, despite outside help, has been fairly slow. Last summer a U.N. survey showed that out of 32 developing countries India is almost slowest in progress.

Tide Turning?

GOP Shows Gains In Tuesday's Elections

You can't tell it by the headlines, because they necessarily have to say whether a Democrat or a Republican won, but Tuesday's election results as a while have brought gloom in private to the Democrats and correspondingly some unconcealed encouragement to Republican leaders throughout the country.

David Lawrence

When a Democrat wins the governorship in New Jersey, as happened this week, and repeats a victory that the Democratic party won in the state's gubernatorial elections in 1957 and 1953, it doesn't cause much surprise despite overoptimistic predictions on the Republican side. But when the substantial gain made by the Republicans since the previous election is noted, it can only mean that there is some kind of revolution going on, electorally speaking.

The formula applies straight across the board — in New York City's mayoralty contest, in New Jersey, in Connecticut, in Ohio, in Kentucky and in Pennsylvania.

Everywhere the Republicans made marked gains over their previous vote and narrowed the margin between the two parties. This could mean they will make big gains next year in the congressional elections.

The figures in this week's elections tell the story of a Republican upsurge in voting and a corresponding downward trend for the Democrats.

Take New Jersey, for instance, where the Democratic nominee for governor won. Four years ago Gov. Meyner, Democrat, won re-election by an even bigger vote than he polled in 1953. His 1957 total was 1,101,130. This time the Democrat got around 1,080,000 — a loss of 21,000 votes — while the Republican party went from 897,-321 in 1957 to around 1,040,000 —a gain of more than 142,000.

Take New York City's contest this week. Mayor Wagner polled 1,234,533 votes — but four years ago his total was 273,000 more, and his 1957 majority of 923,000 was cut this time to 398,000.

The Republican candidate for mayor, on the other hand, got approximately 250,000 more votes this week than in 1957. There also were 321,966 votes cast on Tuesday for an independent Democratic candidate who had fought the bosses. Doubtless many of the votes he received were a protest against the scandals in the Wagner regime and would have gone to the Republican candidate if the independent had not chosen to run.

THE STORY of Republican gains is the same in Pennsylvania, where the Democratic machine in Philadelphia was able to produce for the losing candidate for the state supreme court — the only statewide contest — a mere 79,000 majority as compared with the 320,000 margin it piled up for Mr. Kennedy last year.

In Philadelphia itself, the Democratic city controller and the district attorney were returned to office but by margins of around 50,-000 as against the 100,000 edge predicted by the head of the Democratic machine.

The Republicans, moreover, ousted Democratic mayors in 10 Pennsylvania cities, including Erie and Scranton, the latter long a Democratic stronghold.

In Ohio, the Republicans captured the city hall in Youngstown, Canton, Warren and Lorain, and took control of the city governments in Columbus and Toledo.

In Kentucky, they won a surprising victory by electing the first Republican mayor of Louisville in 28 years and sweeping other offices in Jefferson County.

In upstate New York, they ousted the Democratic mayor of Buffalo, the state's second - largest city, and made substantial gains in other mayoralty contests.

In Connecticut, while the Democrats retained control of the larger cities, Republicans cut deeply into their margins — in New Haven, for instance, the Democratic mayor's 14,000 plurality of two years ago was reduced to less than 4,000, and in Stamford the 1959 margin of 10,481 was cut by more than half to 4,187.

PLAINLY there is a revolt on against vested interests and the entrenched power of the bosses in many states and cities.

New Jersey is a boss-controlled state where the machines usually dominate Essex and Hudson —two populous counties that can swing any election.

Certainly New York City newspapers, which in the past have for the most part supported Democratic nominees for mayor and supported Mr. Kennedy in 1960, turned thumbs down on Mayor Wagner for re-election and told their readers to vote for the Republican candidate, Attorney General Lefkowitz. But it was of no avail.

Does this mean that the people really don't know the issues? Is there an absence of effective communication between the organs of opinion and the people in the precincts?

There is, to be sure, some form of communication that does get votes. It is evidently what the bosses tell their lieutenants to say — and to promise — that often carries the day.

POLITICAL DEBATE in the neighborhood used to be important because people knew the people not only next door but a couple blocks away. Today they don't know the residents of the apartment above them.

New ways of communicating the facts of political scandal and of political misgovernment must be found if boss control is to be removed.

Tuesday's election results, however, do show that across the country the people are being awakened to the misrule by City Halls and local political machines and that they are exercising their constitutional right to "desert" their party and vote for opposition candidates in the hope of disciplining their own party leaders.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

It must have occurred to others besides me that the Golden Rule is a heavy handicap in standing off the Russians. We believe in it and they don't, which sets us up for their one-two punches every time.

I am as baffled now as I was when I first heard of the practice of showering gifts on professional athletes who are paid well for working at their jobs. Fans gave Kyle Rote, the New York Giants football star, $20,000 worth of loot last Sunday. Yet if someone proposed the same thing for a teacher who had worked a generation for peanuts, the same people would think the proposer had lost his buttons.

Steam comes out of my ears whenever chief executives of this country are carped at for being away from the White House too much. I believe the effectuality of the president increases in direct proportion to the distance he is away from the political isolation cell.

I am self-conscious about the misfit hat I keep wearing until I see another picture of leading Redskies lined up behind Mr. K in another of those inimitable Moscow official photographs. On them the same monstrosity is the height of fashion.

Lefkowitz, Gilhooley and Fino is not the name of a New York law firm. It is not a vaudeville act. It is not a list of defendants. It is the Republican trio of candidates for city office on Election Day.

The new pup at our house has worn out her welcome with our two old-timer dogs by running under them at every opportunity. This works all right so far with the Irish setter but up-ends the spaniel, whose clearance is a scant six inches.

I find no reason to revise my opinion that politicians in this country are trying the patience of a large percentage of voters by insulting their intelligence. By making their campaign pitch to the lowest common denominator they alienate the respect of people who don't aim to be fooled any of the time.

Mankind is not out of the woods on this score and never will be, due to differences in taste, but for men who like them there are shirt collars that do what they're supposed to do without starching and without those little "corset stays" that are supposed to make collars hold their shape but which end up by getting lost in the laundry.

Most of my do-it-yourself projects leave much to be desired. But when it is a matter of planting flagpoles, poles for dinner bells and signposts, I yield to no one. My work stands up well, stays plumb and is fairly easy to undo in the event of a change of location.

The greatest time-saver anyone could hope to find is a simple resolution to avoid all arguments and discussions with other people who don't know what they're talking about and to apply the same resolution to yourself.

Democrats' Horrible Examples

President Kennedy says he is overjoyed at Democratic successes in New York City, the state of New Jersey and a congressional district in Texas.

He pointed out in his press conference this week that he would have been blamed if Democrats had lost in these places. Therefore, he is entitled to feel good because they won.

But we doubt that this young Democratic politician who catapulted himself from Massachusetts into the White House is as overjoyed about the state of affairs in New York City as he says he is.

Beating a Republican candidate in cities like New York and Cleveland is like beating a small girl whose hands have been tied behind her; there's nothing heroic about it. The Democratic party has laced together an organization with racial and religious ties that is the model for every other organization of its kind in the United States.

The toughest problem of the Republican party—and so regarded by party strategists—is how to develop a two-party system in the nation's largest cities.

In New York, Democrats have pre-empted political power so completely that even when they split, as the did this year, they can't lose.

Robert F. Wagner, running for a third term, was opposed not only by a stand-in Republican candidate running for his health but by a Democrat running with the backing of the regular Democratic organization. Mayor Wagner still could win in a walk, though he pretended he and Tammany Hall were feuding.

The Republican party has no hope of capturing New York—no more than it has of capturing Cleveland. Yet the Democratic party's strength in cities like these is so overwhelming it has started to be a weakness.

It has turned into the horrible example for Americans elsewhere of what is possible when the two-party system collapses and governments cease to be answerable to voters. In one of the trickiest shifts of all time in one-party politics, Mayor Wagner ceased to be a Tammany-backed official last summer and became a late-blooming reformer, to avoid running on a record of his own failure.

New York was in trouble under his Democratic administration before Election Day. The Wagner administration had been embarrassed deeply by evidence of mismanagement and corruption. Under normal circumstances voters would have "thrown the rascals out"; that would have been the two-party way.

But New York City is not governed under normal circumstances. The same mayor who had presided over its drift into deterioration under Democratic sponsorship was presented to Democratic voters as their savior by another bunch of Democrats.

All over the United States people take note of Hanky-Panky like this in Democrat-dominated cities and resolve they won't let it happen to them if they can help it.

President Kennedy has a right to be overjoyed about a Democratic victory. But there's nothing to celebrate about victories that cost more than they're worth. That's what may have happened in New York this year.

Millions of Americans have stiffened their resolve to keep the big-city Democratic stranglehold from being inflicted on their small cities and suburban communities.

A Time To Turn Away

There is special poignancy in airplane crashes that take the lives of the young, especially young soldiers. The Richmond, Va., crash that killed 74 Army recruits—the nation's second worst military disaster of its kind—has left millions of us depressed.

And almost as bad as the depression caused by the crash is the chilling realization that even if any young men had survived the crash and the fire that consumed the wreckage they might not have survived the morbid crowd that collected.

Rescue efforts would have been bogged down in traffic jams. Roads would have been blocked. Fire engines couldn't have reached the scene. Ambulances would have been blocked off the roads. Doctors and nurses couldn't have got through.

This disgraceful performance by a mob isn't peculiar to Richmond. It can be staged on a minute's notice anywhere in the United States where large numbers of people live close together. It has happened at LaGuardia Airport in New York City when word spread that a passenger plane might crash. It could happen anywhere. It could happen here.

It does happen when there are fires. It can happen where floods occur—and tornadoes. The morbid flock to the scene to see the destruction and suffering. If there were stadiums, they would fill them to the rim, the way Roman mobs filled the Colosseum to watch human beings die — and the way they pack the Indianapolis Speedway.

The greatest hazard of firefighters in the suburbs and the country is the crowds that gathers, blocking roads. It is, likewise, one of the hazards of rescue workers in airplane crashes and all other disasters. Perhaps nothing can be done about it, ever. But is it too much to hope that some day most people, out of decent consideration for others, might learn there's a time to turn away from the sight of human suffering.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

U. S. interior secretary's ascent of Mt. FiJi, Japan, is causing jealousy in Washington. Peak scaled is 12,397 feet high. That's higher than President Kennedy's climb from Choate School, Wallingford, to White House, and even more sensational than Secretary Goldberg's trip from adviser to steel union to secretary of labor post. Then there was Mr. McNamara's perilous climb from Detroit production line to Potomac job embracing moon flights.

Udall's Mt. Fiji exploit makes President Kennedy's trips by helicopter and attempts to explore Nehru's mind on yacht Honey Fitz seem old hat and anything but daring.

Secretary of interior reached peak in 5 hours and 15 minutes. Not even Robert Kennedy's climb from McClellan committee to peaks overlooking General Electric and Westinghouse Corporation ethics and DuPont-GM hassel touches this, although on a clear day the attorney general can see possible conviction of Jimmy Hoffa.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas is reported miffed. He was Washington's man in charge of mountain climbing, up to the Udall exploit. Our off - the - cuff street interviews brought these opinions:

Mortimer Topblower: This was a victory for Democratic administration. Republicans can't get back until they climb Himalayas and bag Abominable Snowman.

Elmer Twitchell: I think Udall put Secretary Rusk, Secretary Goldberg and others in Japan at the time in a very embarrassing position. They hadn't even brought rope."

Pettigrew Bilge: "I see where Udall had to fight winds of 60 miles an hour. This set new high for windiness outside of Cabinet sessions."

Oscar Widgeon: "America needs emphasis on mountain climbing to offset fact Americans have been softened up by years of using escalators to second floors and climbing hills only by auto."

POST ELECTION JOY

How grand to turn the TV on.
As all the noise abates,
And on my screen behold no glimpse
Of any candidates!

"IT IS OBVIOUS the Soviets broke moratorium and were largely responsible for new situation," said Premier Nehru on TV program, adding in response to question what advice he would give to free world, "I would not presume to advise anybody." What's so wrong about a little advice when civilization is at stake. If "advice" is wrong word, how about a few words indicating indignation at broken agreements and plain dishonest?

Giant tuna caught off Bahamas and tagged with metal disk turned up in Norwegian waters. This shows those costumes and equipment of tropical anglers can really scare a fish.

We listened to TV discussion of psychiatry by four eminent members of profession the other day and it left us convinced that psychiatrists are in greater need of psychiatric treatment than most patients are.

Barbers convention in New York revealed shaves are not high. He charges $4.50 for what he calls a "package deal," embracing haircut, shave, shampoo, dryer, etc. We understand the large economy-sized package includes opinions on baseball, football, world crisis and atomic bomb tests.

("Lone rooster crowing in New York apartment house area resulted in high indignation and call to police"—News item.)

Manhattan hears a rooster crow
And to the phone the people go:
Now squad cars to the rescue race. . . .
The city has a problem case!

Attention Navy, U.S.A. . . .
A rooster has the town at bay!
Manhattan's fearless in a clutch,
BUT ONE LONE ROOSTER IS TOO MUCH!

Imaginary dialogue in great Soviet mausoleum crisis.

Stalin: Do you hear a peculiar noise?

Lenin: I was just going to ask you the same question.

Stalin: I have a distinct feeling somebody is coming in here.

Lenin: I have a feeling somebody is going OUT!

Stalin: Aren't we here as inseparable symbols of Communism?

Lenin: That was our belief, and one of us is stuck with it. I observe figures approaching your bier.

Stalin: I was placed here by a written decree with no expiration clause.

Lenin: You didn't read the small type.

Stalin: Oh THAT Khrushchev! And to think he was once a subordinate! How dared he?

Lenin: It's something about brushing off the cult of personality. Nikita is against glorifying individuals.

Stalin: How about you?

Lenin: I think I am safe but I am beginning to wonder.

Stalin: They're wheeling me out. This is it. I'm sorry to leave you. It's a terrible place to be alone.

Lenin: Yes, it will be awfully creepy around here now, and quite an ordeal listening to millions of visitors file by and ask: "What became of the other one?"

Stalin: I wonder if it's all part of a replacement program?

Lenin: This is a tomb, not a TV show.

Stalin: Yeah but the direction is similar.

Casket Mover (as if a little perplexed): I wonder if I left anything here?

Lenin (in alarm): Don't look at me!

The Farmer's Daughter Comes Home

Kennedy Eyes Political Trails

By Victor Riesel

Strange reports seeping into the White House have been alarming President Kennedy's political strategists. There have been serious breaks inside the Democratic ranks.

Victor Riesel

Some of this revolt has been organized by groups which seriously fear a Soviet invasion and actually wear shoulder holster guns at their socials in southwestern sections of the land — and I do not here refer to the California "survival" bands training in the hills.

Some antagonism to the White House has spread across the entire southern belt because of an uneasiness over the operations of Cuban agents in Mexico.

This truly is not what worries the strategists. What more deeply disturbs them are defections in concentrated industrial areas and some big cities not industrial at all.

There have been many private conversations — and off the record phone calls — between the White House men and labor leaders in the big towns.

FROM MANY districts the word was that the big city labor leaders and party officials might not be able to hold the rank and file during the generally undramatic municipal campaigns — and that the results could well be dramatic if there were heavy losses and slim victory margins.

At this point John F. Kennedy decided to make sorties in person, by special letter and long distance telephone into the big communities.

Behind this decision is the memory of a brilliant political report made to the Kennedys by Ted Sorensen some five years ago. Mr. Sorensen, a devotee of anonymity, now is more than just special counsel to the President. He is a most trusted and sagacious confidant of JFK.

Take New Jersey, for instance, where the Democratic nominee for governor won. Four years ago Gov. Meyner, Democrat, won re-election by an even bigger vote than he polled in 1953. His 1957 total was 1,101,130. This time the Democrat got around 1,080,000 — a loss of 21,000 votes — while the Republican party went from 897,321 in 1957 to around 1,040,000 —a gain of more than 142,000.

Take New York City's contest this week. Mayor Wagner polled 1,234,533 votes — but four years ago his total was 273,000 more, and his 1957 majority of 923,000 was cut this time to 398,000.

The Republican candidate for mayor, on the other hand, got approximately 250,000 more votes this week than in 1957. There also were 321,966 votes cast on Tuesday for an independent Democratic candidate who had fought the bosses. Doubtless many of the votes he received were a protest against the scandals in the Wagner regime and would have gone to the Republican candidate if the independent had not chosen to run.

THE STORY of Republican gains is the same in Pennsylvania, where the Democratic machine in Philadelphia was able to produce for the losing candidate for the state supreme court — the only statewide contest — a mere 79,000 majority as compared with the 320,000 margin it piled up for Mr. Kennedy last year.

In Philadelphia itself, the Democratic city controller and the district attorney were returned to office but by margins of around 50,000 as against the 100,000 edge predicted by the head of the Democratic machine.

The Republicans, moreover, ousted Democratic mayors in 10 Pennsylvania cities, including Erie and Scranton, the latter long a Democratic stronghold.

In Ohio, the Republicans captured the city hall in Youngstown, Canton, Warren and Lorain, and took control of the city governments in Columbus and Toledo.

In Kentucky, they won a surprising victory by electing the first Republican mayor of Louisville in 28 years and sweeping other offices in Jefferson County.

In upstate New York, they ousted the Democratic mayor of Buffalo, the state's second - largest city, and made substantial gains in other mayoralty contests.

In Connecticut, while the Democrats retained control of the larger cities, Republicans cut deeply into their margins — in New Haven, for instance, the Democratic mayor's 14,000 plurality of two years ago was reduced to less than 4,000, and in Stamford the 1959 margin of 10,481 was cut by more than half to 4,187.

PLAINLY there is a revolt on against vested interests and the entrenched power of the bosses in many states and cities.

New Jersey is a boss-controlled state where the machines usually dominate Essex and Hudson —two populous counties that can swing any election.

Certainly New York City newspapers, which in the past have for the most part supported Democratic nominees for mayor and supported Mr. Kennedy in 1960, turned thumbs down on Mayor Wagner for re-election and told their readers to vote for the Republican candidate, Attorney General Lefkowitz. But it was of no avail.

Does this mean that the people really don't know the issues? Is there an absence of effective communication between the organs of opinion and the people in the precincts?

There is, to be sure, some form of communication that does get votes. It is evidently what the bosses tell their lieutenants to say — and to promise — that often carries the day.

POLITICAL DEBATE in the neighborhood used to be important because people knew the people not only next door but a couple blocks away. Today they don't know the residents of the apartment above them.

New ways of communicating the facts of political scandal and of political misgovernment must be found if boss control is to be removed.

Tuesday's election results, however, do show that across the country the people are being awakened to the misrule by City Halls and local political machines and that they are exercising their constitutional right to "desert" their party and vote for opposition candidates in the hope of disciplining their own party leaders.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

It must have occurred to others besides me that the Golden Rule is a heavy handicap in standing off the Russians. We believe in it and they don't, which sets us up for their one-two punches every time.

I am as baffled now as I was when I first heard of the practice of showering gifts on professional athletes who are paid well for working at their jobs. Fans gave Kyle Rote, the New York Giants football star, $20,000 worth of loot last Sunday. Yet if someone proposed the same thing for a teacher who had worked a generation for peanuts, the same people would think the proposer had lost his buttons.

Steam comes out of my ears whenever chief executives of this country are carped at for being away from the White House too much. I believe the effectuality of the president increases in direct proportion to the distance he is away from the political isolation cell.

I am self-conscious about the misfit hat I keep wearing until I see another picture of leading Redskies lined up behind Mr. K in another of those inimitable Moscow official photographs. On them the same monstrosity is the height of fashion.

Lefkowitz, Gilhooley and Fino is not the name of a New York law firm. It is not a vaudeville act. It is not a list of defendants. It is the Republican trio of candidates for city office on Election Day.

The new pup at our house has worn out her welcome with our two old-timer dogs by running under them at every opportunity. This works all right so far with the Irish setter but up-ends the spaniel, whose clearance is a scant six inches.

I find no reason to revise my opinion that politicians in this country are trying the patience of a large percentage of voters by insulting their intelligence. By making their campaign pitch to the lowest common denominator they alienate the respect of people who don't aim to be fooled any of the time.

Mankind is not out of the woods on this score and never will be, due to differences in taste, but for men who like them there are shirt collars that do what they're supposed to do without starching and without those little "corset stays" that are supposed to make collars hold their shape but which end up by getting lost in the laundry.

Most of my do-it-yourself projects leave much to be desired. But when it is a matter of planting flagpoles, poles for dinner bells and signposts, I yield to no one. My work stands up well, stays plumb and is fairly easy to undo in the event of a change of location.

The greatest time-saver anyone could hope to find is a simple resolution to avoid all arguments and discussions with other people who don't know what they're talking about and to apply the same resolution to yourself.

Parking Lots Plan Requires Week More

Steve Germusa, president, advised Midland Council Thursday night another week is needed to prepare requests for financial aid for the proposed off-street parking plan.

The borough has had a survey made of possible lots and this information will be forwarded to the federal agency at Philadelphia.

Germusa commented there have been some remarks that Council's promise to replant trees in the Spring Ln. area was a "political football."

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, reported that trees will be replanted sometime after Wednesday and the contractor had wanted to wait longer for better planting in the cold weather.

Steebner reported on progress of rebuilding curbs in the borough and Germusa asked him to begin soon on broken curbs in the business district along Midland Ave. before colder weather.

Council approved a motion transferring $1,400 for street work. Germusa asked department heads and committee chairman to plan ahead for next year so sufficient amounts can be provided for projects when the budget is considered.

Council approved motion permitting the Police Civil Service Commission to set up examinations for patrolman and sergeant eligibility lists. The commission is waiting new examinations from the state and will set dates later.

The patrolman list, which is compiled each year, expires next Friday. The sergeant list is being made up to keep the police department from being caught short-handed, Germusa said.

Steebner reported that the new sewage treatment plant has not been approved yet. He said the biggest holdup is the furnace, which will not change easily from gas to oil or oil to gas. He said representatives of Chester Engineers of Pittsburgh, were in Tuesday to inspect the plant.

Council in recent months approved legislation to turn the new plant over to the Municipal Authority as soon as the state approves after inspections.

Councilman Harvey Sponcer asked about plans for parking on only one side of 11th, 12th and 13th Sts. He said that with cold weather and the possibility of fires, room would be needed for fire trucks.

Councilman Lester Trainer of the traffic committee said he will try and have plans ready by the next meeting.

Trainer announced that voters complaints to councilmen at polls Tuesday have been placed in Council committees and action will be taken. Germusa congratulated successful candidates.

Council's next meeting falls on Thanksgiving Day so it will be held a day earlier, Nov. 22.

Reports of borough officers were approved as submitted without a formal reading. Bills were ordered paid.

Oaths Given To Attorneys

Hancock County commissioners Thursday administered the oath of office to three of four attorneys who have been appointed as commissioners of accounts.

The oath was given in a brief ceremony in the Courthouse in New Cumberland to Atty. George Bohach of Weirton and Atty. T. S. McKenzie and Atty. Edwin Flowers, both of New Cumberland.

Atty. Callie Tsapis, member of the House of Delegates from Hancock, will be sworn in later. The commissioners of accounts are responsible for checking appraisals of estates of deceased persons.

Commissioners also authorized payment of $250 to the Cove No. 2 fire department in Weirton as its share of the fund for county volunteer fire departments.

Donald Stewart, chief clerk, was authorized to purchase two West Virginia code books for use in his office and also by commissioners.

Approved as notaries public were the applications of Adda R. Hindman, 534 Virginia Ave., Chester, director of the county Department of Public Assistance, and Helen F. Huff and Mary Lou Mayhew, both of Pughtown. Commissioners also approved the applications of three Weirton residents as notaries.

Attending were Commissioners W. C. Graham of Chester, president of County Court, Lyle Virden and James Finley.

Auto Mishap Fatal

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—Millicent E. Borun of North Baltimore (Wood county) was killed late Thursday night when her car went off Ohio 29 and overturned just east of nearby Wabash near the Indiana state line.

Cites Taft Leadership

CINCINNATI (AP)—Alan Cooper, chairman of Ohio Young Republican Clubs, says he thinks the GOP must put up "leaders in the tradition of the late Robert A. Taft" as candidates for state office next year.

Wilhelm Named Head Of Cherokee Scouts

LISBON — Norman Wilhelm of New Waterford was elected chairman of the Shawnee Boy Scout District at the meeting Wednesday evening at Camp McKinley. He succeeds Tom Starkey of Salem.

Grant Culp of Columbiana was re-elected and Robert Boyd of Salem was elected as vice chairmen.

Arden Crumbaker of Salem was returned as district commissioner. Kenneth Mugridge is district executive.

The group discussed the progress of the district for the year.

City Drivers Draw Fines

Three East Liverpool area motorists were among 11 from the district penalized at hearings held Thursday by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

Barbara Ellen Slayton of R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for a stop sign violation, and Mrs. Betty McKernan, 1452 Dresden Ave., was fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Forrest Geer, 322 W. 3rd St., was fined $200 — with $100 suspended — for intoxication, a charge filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol who said he was sitting in his car off Route 30.

Orville Manns of the Lisbon Hotel at Lisbon forfeited a $25 bond for driving with an expired license and $15 bond for speeding.

James A. Simpson, 388 N. Market St., East Palestine, was fined $10 and costs for false registration. Ethel Huston of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for speeding, and James Crawford of Negley was fined $5 and costs for improper backing.

Don Smith of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle.

Three Akron area truckers, drivers for Yankee Lines, were fined $25 and costs each for driving overlength vehicles. They were the latest of nine drivers for the firm penalized on similar charges in a week.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

BRIGHTER BUSES. A new fluorescent yellow paint was sprayed on Beaver Local school buses Wednesday in an experiment to determine if it increases safety in area fog. Watching Al Ward, head Beaver Local mechanic, wield a spray gun, are, left to right, Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain, Howard Short, assistant supervisor of pupil transportation for the Ohio Department of Education, and James Boyd, chairman of the Calcutta-East Liverpool Ruritan Club's committee on bus safety for this district. The new high-visibility paint has been used by the armed services with success.

Post-Gazette To End Sunday Publication

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette is discontinuing publication of its Sunday newspaper and is moving to the Pittsburgh Press plant where it will continue publishing its daily editions.

A joint announcement was made Thursday by publishers William and Paul Block Jr. of the Post-Gazette and editor W. W. Forster and president F. G. Morrison of the Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper.

The Post-Gazette will print its last Sunday edition next Sunday. Starting Monday, daily editions of the morning newspaper will be printed at the Press.

The Press will continue publishing its Sunday and daily evening editions as usual.

Women Hurt In Car Crash

Two women, one from East Liverpool, were injured slightly in a two-car traffic crash Thursday at 10:10 p. m. on State Route 7, a mile north of Steubenville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car operated by Mrs. Constance Pender, 53, of Toronto struck the rear of the auto of Malkin Daniels, 36, of 327 Broadway.

Both cars were north-bound, and Daniels had stopped for other traffic when he was rammed in the rear by the Toronto woman, the patrol reported.

Mrs. Pender received a laceration of the lower lip. Mrs. Macel Daniels, 40, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at City Hospital after complaining of pains in the left neck and back.

Mrs. Pender was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance, and is scheduled for a hearing Monday before Jefferson County Judge Helen M. Huntsman of Toronto.

There was moderate damage to both cars, the patrol said.

Leader In Farm Bureau Returned

LISBON — Allen Chamberlan of Leetonia R. D. 1 was re-elected chairman of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation Board of Directors at a reorganization Thursday evening at its offices.

Also re-elected were Mrs. Florence Sidwell of Columbiana R. D. 2, secretary, and Whitney Ingraham of Lisbon, treasurer.

Mrs. Ernest Bartels of Salem R. D. 1 was elected chairman of the women's committee at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the offices.

Don Pollitt, Northeast Regional supervisor, discussed the workmen's compensation and commended the local group for winning an award as the first group in the state with 100 per cent membership of employes.

Rogers Serviceman Goes To Texas Base

Airman Rct. Donald Low, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Low of Rogers, left Wednesday for Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex., for basic training.

Mr. and Mrs. Burr Amick and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown of Indiana left Wednesday for a visit at the Indiana home.

William Cowan remains at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Youngstown, where he underwent an operation Thursday.

Georgetown Guild To Meet

Plans for the annual Christmas party will be discussed at the meeting of the Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal Church Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Curtis Finley of Georgetown.

Mrs. Finley, president, will conduct business and Mrs. Parkley McHaffie will lead devotions. Mrs. James McHaffie will be assistant hostess.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mackall, born Monday at City Hospital, has been named Martin Lee. They also have a daughter Marcy. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mackall of Georgetown are the paternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smusz of Chester are the maternal grandparents.

David Blake of Chester has concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Holland Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Laughlin of Pittsburgh have returned after visiting Mrs. Charles Finley.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Campbell and family of Williamstown, W. Va., have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell Jr. of R.D. 1. Mrs. Fred Campbell of East Liverpool is spending this week with her son and daughter-in-law. Sunday guests of the Campbells were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McElhaney and family and Miss Nancy Greenwood of East Liverpool.

Kentucky has monuments honoring Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis — two native sons who served simultaneously as presidents of nations.

Crucible Steel Film Shown Midland Club

A film on specialty steels was shown by Glenn Roberts, supervisor of community relations for the Crucible Steel Co., at the meeting of the Midland Rotary Club Thursday night at the New Riviera Restaurant.

Ernest Gengarella was program chairman. Charles Smith, president, presided.

The club will hold its meeting Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Beaver County Society of Crippled Children's Home in Beaver with Sal Glorioso in charge.

Members will tour the remodeled building and see demonstrations of physiotherapy and heat therapy.

City Drivers Draw Fines

Three East Liverpool area motorists were among 11 from the district penalized at hearings held Thursday by County Judge Herbert Arfman at East Palestine.

Barbara Ellen Slayton of R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for a stop sign violation, and Mrs. Betty McKernan, 1452 Dresden Ave., was fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Forrest Geer, 322 W. 3rd St., was fined $200 — with $100 suspended — for intoxication, a charge filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol who said he was sitting in his car off Route 30.

Orville Manns of the Lisbon Hotel at Lisbon forfeited a $25 bond for driving with an expired license and $15 bond for speeding.

James A. Simpson, 388 N. Market St., East Palestine, was fined $10 and costs for false registration, Ethel Huston of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $10 and costs for speeding, and James Crawford of Negley was fined $5 and costs for improper backing.

Don Smith of Rogers R. D. 1 was fined $5 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle.

Three Akron area truckers, drivers for Yankee Lines, were fined $25 and costs each for driving overlength vehicles. They were the latest of nine drivers for the firm penalized on similar charges in a week.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average four to six degrees above normal. Normal high 49 - 51, normal low 32-36. Warming trend throughout the period. Rainfall will total less than two-tenths of an inch in scattered light showers early next week.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO —Temperatures will average four to seven degrees above normal. Normal high 52-54, normal low 34-36. Warming trend throughout the period. Little or no rainfall indicated.

BRIGHTER BUSES. A new fluorescent yellow paint was sprayed on Beaver Local school buses Wednesday in an experiment to determine if it increases safety in area fog. Watching Al Ward, head Beaver Local mechanic, wield a spray gun, are, left to right, Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain, Howard Short, assistant supervisor of pupil transportation for the Ohio Department of Education, and James Boyd, chairman of the Calcutta-East Liverpool Ruritan Club's committee on bus safety for this district. The new high-visibility paint has been used by the armed services with success.

Post-Gazette To End Sunday Publication

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette is discontinuing publication of its Sunday newspaper and is moving to the Pittsburgh Press plant where it will continue publishing its daily editions.

A joint announcement was made Thursday by publishers William and Paul Block Jr. of the Post-Gazette and editor W. W. Forster and president F. G. Morrison of the Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper.

The Post-Gazette will print its last Sunday edition next Sunday. Starting Monday, daily editions of the morning newspaper will be printed at the Press.

The Press will continue publishing its Sunday and daily evening editions as usual.

Women Hurt In Car Crash

Two women, one from East Liverpool, were injured slightly in a two-car traffic crash Thursday at 10:10 p. m. on State Route 7, a mile north of Steubenville.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said a car operated by Mrs. Constance Pender, 53, of Toronto struck the rear of the auto of Malkin Daniels, 36, of 327 Broadway.

Both cars were north - bound, and Daniels had stopped for other traffic when he was rammed in the rear by the Toronto woman, the patrol reported.

Mrs. Pender received a laceration of the lower lip. Mrs. Macel Daniels, 40, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at City Hospital after complaining of pains in the left neck and back.

Mrs. Pender was cited on a charge of failure to halt in the assured clear distance, and is scheduled for a hearing Monday before Jefferson County Judge Helen M. Huntsman of Toronto.

There was moderate damage to both cars, the patrol said.

How Long To Remain Under Cover

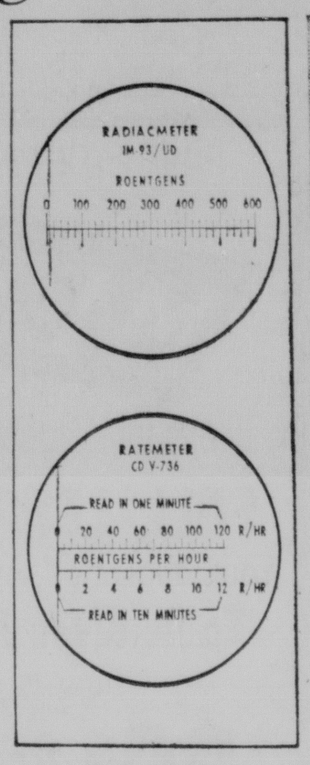
By PROF. WILLARD F. LIBBY

How can you know when it's safe to leave your shelter, on quick sorties to find food or help others, or to depart permanently yet safely

Or how can you know you're not foolishly hiding in a hole when there's no danger

Your fundamental guides must be a transistor radio, a radiation meter and an understanding of the danger.

Fifth In A Series



RADIATION DETECTOR. This kit consists of two tubes, and a square charging box which is used to adjust the gauges in the tubes. The gauge in one tube shows how much radiation is present in the immediate vicinity. The gauge in the other tube shows how much radiation has accumulated over a period of time through fallout.

Civil Defense has set up an emergency radio broadcasting system, transmitting on 640 and 1240 kilocycles, called Conelrad to supply national and local information and advice to guide your actions.

EXPERTS WILL gather information near and far beyond the scene, and report fallout patterns.

Part of the advice about the hazard you personally face, and how long you should stay inside, depends upon the size of a bomb and also where — on ground or air — it was detonated. We all need to know some of the fundamentals as to why attitude of the explosion is important.

First, a bomb exploded high in the air, as in nuclear test, produces radioactive ashes just from the device itself. This fallout becomes widely distributed over a long period of time.

It is to fine to fall quickly. It's the kind of fallout at issue in discussions of nuclear testing. So far, it has amounted to a few per cent of the normal, unavoidable radiation we receive daily all our lives from cosmic rays, the earth, and naturally radioactive elements in our bodies.

IN WAR, a bomb could be exploded over a city with the main intent of blasting down buildings, and setting fires. This happened in Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Those bombs did not produce local fallout.

Nor was the ground beneath made dangerously radioactive and uninhabitable.

But a bomb exploded on the ground, or close to it, can suck up thousands and millions of tons of dirt and make it all radioactive to produce the widespread shower of intensive fallout which we are concerned here about. This is dirt that "shines" lethally, but it cannot be distinguished from ordinary dirt by sight, smell, taste or touch.

An enemy could choose to explode bombs on contact with the ground particularly to knock out underground missile bases, cities or industrial complexes. Such bombs would dig huge craters. The most intensive fallout would come down in an area of several hundred square miles, downwind after wafting long distances beyond the bombing site.

Exploded in air, but near the ground, the bomb could suck up dirt to spread radioactivity in stretches of hundreds of miles, with diminishing intensity as it fell hours later.

DON'T ASSUME you're safe from fallout because you are upwind from a blast, so far as surface winds go. Fallout is sucked 20 to 25 miles high, and varying and strong winds at these altitudes will produce unpredictable fallout patterns.

Maybe you have nothing to worry about. But stay inside until compilations can establish the pattern of actual fallout.

A transistor radio is the only way of getting these reports.

But local conditions enter in.

Suppose the report is that houses in your general area received fairly heavy dust. Local rains could wash off enough dust to make rooms in your house habitable. Only your radiation meter could measure this for you.

It tells you, by looking at a scale on the meter, how many roentgens of radiation per hour your are receiving. An exposure of one roentgen per hour could be quite tolerable, if you were not exposed too long. (Watch for installment 13).

But, do be smart.

Those same rains could have washed off dangerous dust from houses and streets only to have it collect in low areas by your house, or in storm drains near you. Your own meter could tell you whether this had occurred, and where it was safe or unsafe for you to be on errands, or to stay.

Federation Of Boat Owners Pick Officers

Temporary officers were elected at a meeting of the Tri-State Federation of Boat Clubs Wednesday night at the Wellsville Boat Club headquarters on Riverside Ave.

Named were Tom Frederick of Wellsville, chairman, and Robley Evans of the East Liverpool Yacht Club, secretary-treasurer.

Meetings will be held the third Wednesday of each month and will be open to members of any club in the Tri-State area.

A discussion was held on methods of testing for river pollution and corrective measures. Howard Adrian of the Sportsmen's Club talked on work done by the club in combatting water pollution.

Next meeting is Nov. 22 at Wellsville.

Scouts Give Indian Dances For DAR Chapter Program

Boy Scout Troop 19 of Wellsville, under the direction of Jack Glover, scoutmaster, presented a program of Southwest Plains Indians tribal dances for the meeting of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday night in the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Dressed in Indian costumes, they carried bows and arrows, shields, spears and ankle bells, which provided rhythm accompaniment.

Glover, attired in Indian costume, narrated each dance, accompanied by tomtom for background, assisted by other members. He honored chapter officers, Mrs. J. W. Batey, regent; Mrs. Neil Shope, vice regent; Mrs. M. D. McCutcheon, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Cunningham, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. Jay Clark, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Haugh, registrar, by tapping each with a rod of eagle feathers, and presenting them with a Thunderbird amulet, suspended from a leather neck thong. He explained the amulet is as sacred to the Indian as the white man's cross. He presented the children with arrowheads made by troop members.

Mrs. Batey presided and welcomed the guests. Mrs. William Kaiser, chaplain, read Ps. 23 in Indian wording. Mrs. Homer Huston led the flag salute and Mrs. Cunningham accompanied "The Star Spangled Banner."

Members brought Christmas gifts for Navajo students at the Chilocco Indian Agricultural School in Oklahoma and used clothing for Apache Indians residing on the San Carlos Reservation in Arizona.

Refreshments were served 61 members and their children and grandchildren, who were guests. The buffet table was covered with a green cloth and featured white chrysanthemums and miniature cat tails, flanked by lighted white tapers in silver candelabra. Mrs. Batey presided at the silver coffee service with Mrs. Neil Shope, American Indian chairman, serving guests from the punch bowl.

Mrs. John E. Hall was chairman of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. Marion Poynter, Mrs. George Boice, Mrs. Frank Dawson, Mrs. Lloyd Dittmer, Miss Marian Boyd, Mrs. Walter Niblock, Mrs. Arthur Cloran, Mrs. Clark Bradfield, Mrs. Percy Bryan, Mrs. William Foulks and Mrs. A. J. Brown.

The Christmas party will be held Dec. 11 with Mrs. R. L. Cawood of Park Blvd. Mrs. Sylvia Firestone will be guest soloist, with Mrs. Wanda Unrue accompanist.

Calcutta Grange Has Program On Thanksgiving

A Thanksgiving program highlighted the meeting of Calcutta Grange Wednesday night at the Grange Hall.

Mrs. Ruth Palmer, program chairman, read Scripture from Exod. 23: 16-21 and an article, "Remarks on the First Thanksgiving."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You were wrong in your advice to "Deeply Hurt." She was the woman who headed for the dainty antique chair and the hostess quickly led her to a more substantial one—much to her embarrassment. The fat woman claimed the hostess was a slob. You said heavy people ought to know better.

The following is from a book on antiques: "If a chair is too wobbly to be used it should be discarded or placed in a museum. To be of value, an antique chair must be sturdy and in good condition so that guests can sit in it without fear of collapse."

Any comment? — ANTIQUE LOVER.

Dear Lover: Thank you for one man's opinion. Now here's one woman's:

Some antiques are for admiring. Others are for using. A 200-pound woman should have more sense than to plant herself on a dainty, plush-covered chair, regardless of whether it's new or old. Such a chair was not constructed to hold her—either in the 18th century or now.

Dog's Best Friend

Dear Ann: My next-door neighbor and her husband both work. They kept their Airedale locked up in the house all day. His incessant barking drove me crazy. I had headaches constantly. After four months of agony my doctor suggested that I report the situation to the Humane Society, so I did.

The very next day the barking stopped. After a week of silence I decided that the neighbors got rid of the dog. Of course I was pleased.

Last Sunday I saw these people in the yard and I said, "Good morning." The woman replied, "Don't say good morning to ME as if you were a friend. On account of you we had to give our dog to my mother." She then walked into her house and slammed the door in my face.

I'm sick about this. I've never had neighbors who were unfriendly. Did I do the wrong thing?—NON-PLUSSED.

Dear Non: You did the right thing. Now forget it. A happy dog doesn't bark all day. You did an Airedale a favor—as well as yourself.

Why Reopen Wound?

Dear Ann: I was born out of wedlock and my mother gave me to her mother to raise. I grew up thinking my mother was my older sister.

When I was a child she was mean and abusive to me. I disliked her very much. I found out when I was 17 that she was my mother and I have hated her violently ever since.

My own daughter is now almost 5. She keeps asking me for a grandma—like her playmates have. My grandmother is dead. My real mother lives in this city and has called me several times to patch things up.

She wants to get friendly now that I live in a nice home and have a good standing in the community. It's been seven years since I've seen her and, to be honest, I've never been so happy—or felt so well.

Should I put my feelings aside and let her be a grandmother to my little girl? My husband says it's up to me. I'll do as you say.—MONA.

Dear Mona: Feelings can't be "put aside" so easily. So long as you have such deep-seated hostility toward your mother, getting together again probably would mean reopening old wounds and inflicting new ones. Why look for trouble?

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

3 In Dayton Admit Rare Coins Robbery

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police say three men have admitted the strong-arm robbery of $40,000 to $50,000 worth of rare coins from an 86-year-old Dayton collector.

A fourth man is being questioned in the case.

4-H Activity Told Kiwanis

A description of 4-H work in Columbiana County — which has the largest membership in Ohio—was presented by Don Myers, county extension aide, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Myers outlined the history of the 4-H organization which was founded in Ohio in 1902 and has grown to a more than 2½ million membership in the nation.

The first 4-H Club in Columbiana County was a dairy calf group founded in 1918. The county organization now numbers 1,760—some 1,050 girls and 700 boys—the largest in Ohio this year for the first time.

The county youths are engaged in 2,725 projects and there are 180 adults participating, he said. Although 4-H — which stands for head, hands, heart and health—began as a rural youth organization, it has spread to towns and cities, and in the county, 60 per cent of the activity is in urban area.

Myers expressed appreciation for the assistance the Kiwanis Club has provided in awards programs. He was introduced by Don Thompson, chairman of the Kiwanis agriculture committee.

The first telephone exchange was installed at New Haven, Conn., on Jan. 28, 1878.

42 Ex-Employes Seek $1,315,000 In Damage Suit

CLEVELAND (AP)—A suit for damages totaling $1,315,000 has been filed against the Hoover Ball & Bearing Co. by 42 employes who lost their jobs when the firm moved its Universal Wire Spring Division to Georgetown, Ky., last Dec. 8.

The petition, filed Thursday in federal court, said the plaintiffs all had asked for transfer to Georgetown and were turned down. The 42, who had seniority ranging from 5 to 20 years, asked for damages of $20,000 to $40,000 each.

They were among some 400 employes affected by the move from the plant in suburban Bedford, where the firm had operated since 1939. The division makes automobile springs. Employes there were represented by the Allied Industrial Workers.

Job transfer rights of employes when a company moves to another area have been upheld in two recent federal court suits in other states.

New Mayor Of Ohio Village Not Sure He Wants The Job

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Darrell Harris, newly elected mayor of the little community of Riverside, is not sure he wants the job.

"This came as a surprise to me," said the 24-year-old son of the present mayor. "I don't even know who voted for me."

Two persons voted for him, both with write-in ballots.

None of Riverside's 365 residents sought the mayor's job. The town's councilmen thought they would appoint a mayor after Tuesday's election.

One councilman, Robert E. Honsted, received one write-in vote for mayor. But a member of his family said Thursday that Honsted will not take the job if Harris turns it down.

Harris claims he doesn't have the experience to be mayor. Besides, he said Thursday, he works at night and might not be able to attend the council meetings over which the mayor must preside.

The young bachelor is a technician at the Monsonto Research Corp. in Dayton.

If he does take the job, he'll succeed his father, Bruce Harris, who served two terms as Riverside's mayor and was elected Tuesday as a trustee of Mad River Twp.

Said the elder Harris, "The only way I'd be in favor of him taking the job would be for him to prepare for it as much as possible before January and take courses in city administration at the University of Dayton."

The younger Harris said he has no suggestions on how the little village just east of Dayton could be better governed.

In fact, he said, he hasn't had time to think about it, adding that he's qutie enthusiastic about a hobby that takes up much of his spare time—drag racing.

Midland Parking To Be Cleared For Church Rite

Residents of Midland were asked Thursday night by Borough Council to remove parked cars on Penn and Ohio Aves. and 8th St. early Saturday morning to clear the area for the dedication ceremonies of the new Catholic church.

Police Chief Ed Stefl reported that street barricades will be set up on Ohio Ave. and 8th St. to stop the flow of traffic between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. The dedication will be at 10:30 a.m.

Chief Stefl said no parking signs will be put up at midnight tonight on Penn and Ohio Aves. between 7th and 8th Sts. and on 8th St. between Beaver and Ohio Aves.

Councilman Harvey Sponcer suggested that Bishop John J. Wright of the Pittsburgh Diocese, who will conduct the dedication, blessing and the Solemn Pontifical High Mass, should be given a police escort from the borough line to the church. Chief Stefl said he would take care of it.

Councilman William Vinovich mentioned the need for no parking, adding about 100 clergymen are coming in for the dedication.

Quit, Then Return

CINCINNATI (AP) — Steelworkers union employes walked out at William Powell Co. Thursday in a dispute over discipline of an employe, but returned four hours later at urging of union leaders. A union spokesman said the dispute would be processed by grievance procedure.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You were wrong in your advice to "Deeply Hurt." She was the woman who headed for the dainty antique chair and the hostess quickly led her to a more substantial one—much to her embarrassment. The fat woman claimed the hostess was a slob. You said heavy people ought to know better.

The following is from a book on antiques: "If a chair is too wobbly to be used it should be discarded or placed in a museum. To be of value, an antique chair must be sturdy and in good condition so that guests can sit in it without fear of collapse."

Any comment? — ANTIQUE LOVER.

Dear Lover: Thank you for one man's opinion. Now here's one woman's:

Some antiques are for admiring. Others are for using. A 200-pound woman should have more sense than to plant herself on a dainty, plush-covered chair, regardless of whether it's new or old. Such a chair was not constructed to hold her—either in the 18th century or now.

Event To Be In Leetonia

Parade, Banquet Planned For New VFW Chaplain

A homecoming parade, reception, banquet and ball will be held Sautrday at Leetonia for Fr. Warren F. Braun, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia, who is the newly - elected national chaplain of the Veterans Foreign Wars.

Over 250 reservations have been made for the dinner. The parade will include 25 units, plus a motorcade of 20 cars.

Louis G. Feldmann of Hazelton, Pa., past national VFW commander, will be guest speaker.

Tickets for the banquet can be obtained from Ben Rodgers, 503 W. Park Ave., Columbiana, or at St. Patrick's rectory.

The parade will form at 2:30 p. m. and move at 3:30. The banquet will begin at 6, followed by a dance at 9.

Feldmann has held many VFW posts, having served as national commander-in-chief.

A Marine Corps veteran, he served in the Asiatic - Pacific Theater during World War II. He is an attorney with offices in Wilkes Barre and Hazelton. While he was chairman of the VFW National Loyalty Day committee, the observance was adopted by Congress.

Feldmann holds the Distinguished Service Award, the highest given by the U. S. Information Agency of the State Department. He was cited for his work in the People - To - People program which included three trips to Europe, one to the Caribbean and another around the world covering 22 countries.

He also is active in numerous civic organizations and has received various awards and citations.

Fr. Braun will ride at the head of the motorcade, flanked by State Highway Patrol and sheriff cruisers and led by a color guard.

Fr. Braun has served as chaplain in the county, district and department.

Others in the motorcade will include Atty. Leroy Schell of Steubenville, chairman of the Big Ten Conference and past department commander; John Frye of Lorain, national council administrator and past department commander; William Bowles of Maumee, department commander; Mrs. Isabelle Able, department auxiliary president; O. H. Auer of New Philadelphia, past department commander; Fr. McCoy, Pennsylvania department chaplain; William Bishop, a member of the national youth committee representing Michigan; State Sen. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, Mrs. S. P. Braun of Pittsburgh, Fr. Braun's mother, and Bill Tepsic of Pittsburgh, past Pennsylvania commander.

Wellsville Post 9285 drill team, Mineral Ridge Post 4192 color guard, Columbiana American Legion Post 290 color guard, Marine unit float, various Girl Scout, Boy Scout and Cub Scout units, Crestview Band, wagons and horses, Eagles and various other units.

Plans for the affair were reviewed at a meeting of the Columbiana County VFW Council Wednesday night at Wellsville Post 5647.

Emmett Daniels of Wellsville, commander, presided. Twenty-five attended, representing seven of the nine posts.

The council decided to send each post service officer a copy of a letter explaining the administrative procedures at the Brecksville Veterans Hospital at Cleveland.

The next meeting will be Dec. 13 at Toronto Post 6906.

Post To Mark Veterans Day

In observance of Veterans Day, Pvt. Eddy Post 66 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a dinner and dance Saturday night at the post home on Minerva St.

Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 without cost to members with paid-up 1962 dues.

Dancing will be from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. with music by the Sanfilippo Orchestra of Wellsville.

The program also will include selections by the Shortones barbershop quartet. Members are Max Burkett, tenor, of Ohioview; Bill Flynn, lead, of Beaver, Jack Leeper, baritone, of Beaver Falls and Clark Wolfe, bass, of Beaver. Wolf is formerly of East Liverpool.

At least 125 are expected to attend the affair. Glenn Rice is post commander.

County Mental Health Unit Picks Delegation

The Columbiana County Mental Health Association will send a delegation to a meeting of the Mental Health Federation, Inc., Dec. 8 at Columbus.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the group Wednesday at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon. The group probably will be represented by five members from Lisbon and East Liverpool.

The group discussed correspondence from the Lisbon Ministerial Association, including a recommendation for establishment of a guidance center or clinic in Columbiana County.

Mrs. Alice Herriott of East Palestine was named to fill a request for a speaker at the meeting of the Beaver Local School Parent-Teacher Association Nov. 27

Directors who attended from this area were Mrs. Robert Hays, Mrs. Lilyan Alpern and Judge Louis Tobin.

Next meeting is Dec. 13

Former Diplomat Gets 30 Years In Passing Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge has handed former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck the maximum prison sentence—30 years—for passing U.S. secrets to Polish Communist agents.

In passing sentence Thursday, Judge Leonard P. Walsh said making an example in Scarbeck's case was a factor he had to keep in mind.

If appeals fail, Scarbeck, 41, would not be eligible for parole until he had served 10 years, Justice Department lawyers said.

A 3½-week trial ended Oct. 27 with Scarbeck's conviction on three counts of passing secret documents to the Communist agents while he was second secretary in the U.S. Embassy at Warsaw.

Scarbeck was sentenced to 10 years in prison for each of the three guilty counts returned by the jury.

Evidence at the trial was that the Poles had surprised him in bed with Ursula Discher, a 23-year-old Polish girl, and blackmailed him into giving them information from the embassy.

An hour-long appeal for mercy failed to deter Walsh from meting out the maximum jail sentence. The judge did not impose a fine after Scarbeck's lawyer, Samuel G. Klein, said Scarbeck was penniless. He could have been fined $30,000.

Moving Man Killed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A 1,500-pound printing press feeder toppled on Phillip Weaver Thursday, killing the 48 - year - old Dayton moving man. He was putting rollers under the feeder, before moving it into a printing firm here, when it fell.

State Patrol Reports 70 October Accidents

A total of 70 traffic accidents, including two fatal crashes, were investigated in October, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported today.

There were two killed last month on county roads, and 32 hurt in 18 injury accidents. Officers made 330 arrests and issued 551 warnings, gave 15 safety talks, conducted 40 PUCO inspections and provided assistance in 22 cases.

Santa For Russians

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Businessman Robert I. Horne says he has asked the State Department for clearance to fly to Moscow with 5,000 pounds of goodies to play Santa Claus to some Soviet children. He said he merely wants to show how American children celebrate Christmas.

6 Sue Engineers Union For Total Of $1,080,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — Six men who claim they were fined unjustly and suspended by a kangeroo court of Local 18 of the Operating Engineers have filed suit for $1,080,000 against the state-wide union.

In addition to damages, the six are asking U.S. District Court to order them reinstated.

The petition filed alleges the six were convicted on trumped-up charges. The suit was filed Thursday on behalf of Jack Campbell, Clarence Ehrley, Raymond Gallagher and Edward J. Gallagher, all of Cleveland; Michael A. Rosul of North Olmsted and Orville Williams of Lorain.

They said they were suspended for two years and fined $2,049 each at a union hearing in Columbus June 24. All were members of a group that unsuccessfully opposed the present administration of the 11,000-member local in elections early this year.

Members of Local 18 operate heavy construction machinery.

Grind Wheel Breaks, Killing Man At Work

CLEVELAND (AP) — A grinding wheel, spinning at high speed, went to pieces and killed a grinder at a Cleveland factory Thursday.

Pieces of the wheel penetrated a safety shield to kill James Sanders, 39, of Seven Hills, while he worked at the Farmer Manufacturing Co. plant.

His brother Charles, who was on a lift truck about 10 feet away at the time, said the grindstone seemed to explode. It virtually decapitated Sanders.

Event To Be In Leetonia

Parade, Banquet Planned For New VFW Chaplain

A homecoming parade, reception, banquet and ball will be held Sautrday at Leetonia for Fr. Warren F. Braun, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia, who is the newly - elected national chaplain of the Veterans Foreign Wars.

Over 250 reservations have been made for the dinner. The parade will include 25 units, plus a motorcade of 20 cars.

Louis G. Feldmann of Hazelton, Pa., past national VFW commander, will be guest speaker.

Tickets for the banquet can be obtained from Ben Rodgers, 503 W. Park Ave., Columbiana, or at St. Patrick's rectory.

The parade will form at 2:30 p. m. and move at 3:30. The banquet will begin at 6, followed by a dance at 9.

Feldmann has held many VFW posts, having served as national commander-in-chief.

A Marine Corps veteran, he served in the Asiatic - Pacific Theater during World War II. He is an attorney with offices in Wilkes Barre and Hazelton. While he was chairman of the VFW National Loyalty Day committee, the observance was adopted by Congress.

Feldmann holds the Distinguished Service Award, the highest given by the U. S. Information Agency of the State Department. He was cited for his work in the People - To - People program which included three trips to Europe, one to the Caribbean and another around the world covering 22 countries.

He also is active in numerous civic organizations and has received various awards and citations.

Fr. Braun will ride at the head of the motorcade, flanked by State Highway Patrol and sheriff cruisers and led by a color guard.

Fr. Braun has served as chaplain in the county, district and department.

Others in the motorcade will include Atty. Leroy Schell of Steubenville, chairman of the Big Ten Conference and past department commander; John Frye of Lorain, national council administrator and past department commander; William Bowles of Maumee, department commander; Mrs. Isabelle Able, department auxiliary president; O. H. Auer of New Philadelphia, past department commander; Fr. McCoy, Pennsylvania department chaplain; William Bishop, a member of the national youth committee representing Michigan; State Sen. Edmund Sargus of St. Clairsville, Mrs. S. P. Braun of Pittsburgh, Fr. Braun's mother, and Bill Tepsic of Pittsburgh, past Pennsylvania commander.

Wellsville Post 9285 drill team, Mineral Ridge Post 4192 color guard, Columbiana American Legion Post 290 color guard, Marine unit float, various Girl Scout, Boy Scout and Cub Scout units, Crestview Band, wagons and horses, Eagles and various other units.

Plans for the affair were reviewed at a meeting of the Columbiana County VFW Council Wednesday night at Wellsville Post 5647.

Emmett Daniels of Wellsville, commander, presided. Twenty-five attended, representing seven of the nine posts.

The council decided to send each post service officer a copy of a letter explaining the administrative procedures at the Brecksville Veterans Hospital at Cleveland.

The next meeting will be Dec. 13 at Toronto Post 6906.

Post To Mark Veterans Day

In observance of Veterans Day, Pvt. Eddy Post 66 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor a dinner and dance Saturday night at the post home on Minerva St.

Dinner will be served from 6 to 8 without cost to members with paid-up 1962 dues.

Dancing will be from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m. with music by the Sanfilippo Orchestra of Wellsville.

The program also will include selections by the Shortones barbershop quartet. Members are Max Burkett, tenor, of Ohioview; Bill Flynn, lead, of Beaver, Jack Leeper, baritone, of Beaver Falls and Clark Wolfe, bass, of Beaver. Wolf is formerly of East Liverpool.

At least 125 are expected to attend the affair. Glenn Rice is post commander.

County Mental Health Unit Picks Delegation

The Columbiana County Mental Health Association will send a delegation to a meeting of the Mental Health Federation, Inc., Dec. 8 at Columbus.

The decision was reached at a meeting of the group Wednesday at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon. The group probably will be represented by five members from Lisbon and East Liverpool.

The group discussed correspondence from the Lisbon Ministerial Association, including a recommendation for establishment of a guidance center or clinic in Columbiana County.

Mrs. Alice Herriott of East Palestine was named to fill a request for a speaker at the meeting of the Beaver Local School Parent-Teacher Association Nov. 27

Directors who attended from this area were Mrs. Robert Hays, Mrs. Lilyan Alpern and Judge Louis Tobin.

Next meeting is Dec. 13

Former Diplomat Gets 30 Years In Passing Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal judge has handed former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck the maximum prison sentence—30 years—for passing U.S. secrets to Polish Communist agents.

In passing sentence Thursday, Judge Leonard P. Walsh said making an example in Scarbeck's case was a factor he had to keep in mind.

If appeals fail, Scarbeck, 41, would not be eligible for parole until he had served 10 years, Justice Department lawyers said.

A 3½-week trial ended Oct. 27 with Scarbeck's conviction on three counts of passing secret documents to the Communist agents while he was second secretary in the U.S. Embassy at Warsaw.

Scarbeck was sentenced to 10 years in prison for each of the three guilty counts returned by the jury.

Evidence at the trial was that the Poles had surprised him in bed with Ursula Discher, a 23-year-old Polish girl, and blackmailed him into giving them information from the embassy.

An hour-long appeal for mercy failed to deter Walsh from meting out the maximum jail sentence. The judge did not impose a fine after Scarbeck's lawyer, Samuel G. Klein, said Scarbeck was penniless. He could have been fined $30,000.

Moving Man Killed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A 1,500-pound printing press feeder toppled on Phillip Weaver Thursday, killing the 48 - year - old Dayton moving man. He was putting rollers under the feeder, before moving it into a printing firm here, when it fell.

Cook Will Direct AEP At Sporn's Retirement

NEW YORK — The Board of Directors of the American Electric Power Co. yesterday elected Donald C. Cook president and chief executive officer, effective Dec. 1. He will succeed Philip Sporn, 65, who will retire as president and chief executive officer on that date.

A vice president, director and member of the executive committee of AEP, Cook also is executive vice president of the American Electric Power Service Corp., the service organization of the AEP system. Yesterday, Cook also was elected president and chief executive officer of the Service Corp., succeeding Sporn in that post also.

The Ohio Power Co. is a subsidiary operating company of the American Electric Power Co.

Simultaneously, the parent board established a new standing committee, the AEP System Development Committee, and appointed Sporn as its chairman.

In addition to his duties in this assignment, he will continue to serve as a director and member of the executive committee. He also will serve as advisor and consultant to the directors and officers of the company, in accordance with an arrangement entered into with the company in 1959.

In still another action yesterday, the Service Corp. directors elected H. A. Kammer, now executive vice president for engineering and construction, as senior vice president, also effective Dec. 1.

Announcement of Sporn's retirement and the elections of Cook and Kammer was made last night to 300 members of management of the AEP system during their 14th annual management meeting at the Biltmore Hotel.

The American Electric Power System is a holding company system, providing electric service to 5,400,000 people in parts of seven east-central states. It was founded in 1906 as the American Gas and Electric Co. and adopted its present name in 1958.

Plans Launched For Countrywide Planning Talks

Arrangements are being completed for a countywide discussion of regional planning at a meeting Wednesday, Nov. 29, at 8 p. m. at Beaver Local Public School on Route 7.

The session is being sponsored jointly by the public affairs committee of the County Agricultural Council at Lisbon and the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce.

County Extension Agent Floyd Lower at Lisbon, who has mailed invitations to organizations throughout the county, said the session will be "an educational meeting to inform citizens so they may intelligently support or oppose regional planning."

The speakers will include Walter L. Myers Jr. of Steubenville, executive manager of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council; Nicholas G. Kaschak, who is in charge of regional planning in Jefferson County, and John Hagan, a representative of the State Highway Department. The program is being arranged by the UOVDC. Myers will be moderator.

Lower said organizations throughout the county have been invited to send two or three representatives to the meeting.

Under a regional planning arrangement, two or more adjoining subdivisions such as a city and a township may co-operate with the county commissioners in setting up an organization to plan orderly growth and development.

Civil War Group Will Hear Allegheny College Professor

A new look at the Civil War is planned by Dr. Jay Luvaas of Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa., at a meeting of the Tri-State Civil War Roundtable Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Dr. Luvaas, associate professor of history and author of "The Military Legacy of the Civil War," will discuss the war as a stage in the evolution of military science.

He will evaluate some of the military commanders, such as Gen. J. E. B. Stuart and Gen. James Longstreet.

A native of Meadville, Dr. Luvaas received his master's and doctor's degrees at Duke University, and was in charge of a Southern collection of Civil War material for a number of years.

He edited Henderson's "The Civil War — A Soldier's View" and has written articles on the war for various journals.

Dr. Luvaas, 34, is currently working on a book, "Mightier Than the Sword," a study of British military policy from 1815 to 1940, which is due at the publisher's next month. For the past three summers he has been in England talking with Slidell Hart, noted British military authority.

Anyone interested in the war is invited to attend the meeting, Glenn Waight, program chairman, said.

The Sports Bench

All-State Time Again...

It's all-state time for football in Ohio, the ballots from the Associated Press having arrived yesterday.

Gridders in the area who we feel deserve recognition hail from Beaver Local and Stanton Local.

High on the list are Beaver Local's Dave Myers, and Carl Hoppel and Stanton's fine quarterback Bob Mills and halfback Stan Wickham.

Myers, a 165-pound guard-linebacker, is the best lineman we have seen on the high school scene this season. As a sophomore in 1960, he was placed on the all-county team, the only sophomore to make the squad.

Hoppel is the leading scorer in the district with 85 points. He has tallied against every opponent and has been held under 100 yards only once. That came in last Saturday's game with Wellsville.

The 155-pound Hoppel has carried an average of 20 times a game.

Mills and Wickham will rate a vote on the Class "A" team. Mills has been a steady performer at the Irondale school for three seasons, while Wickham has come into his own this year. Currently, Wickham is the second leading scorer in the district.

Zelch In Key Role...

"GEORGIA'S fastest back, Don Blackburn, slid outside Miami's right end and cut back sharply. Two Georgia blockers came from the other side of the field and Blackburn appeared headed for a touchdown, but Dave Zelch came up from his defensive halfback position and made an excellent tackle to halt the Georgia runner. Zelch was the only Miami player between Blackburn and the goal line."

This was written about the former East Liverpool gridder who is doing a fine job at the University of Miami.

Zelch was out of action for a month with a bad ankle, but the defensive standout was back in action and turned in several plays in Miami's, 32-7, victory over Georgia last week.

He came out of the Georgia tussle in good shape and will be ready for more action Saturday in New Orleans when Miami tackles Tulane. The Hurricanes are on the winning side of the ledger with a 4-3 mark and have captured their last two outings.

3 Area Gridders At Geneva...

THE LOCAL area is well represented in Geneva's starting lineup. From Chester is Bill Mayhew, a 160-pound halfback who has been a regular all season in his sophomore year.

Midland is represented by Mike Raich (185), who handles left end, and Dan Frasier, a South Side product, has taken over the regular quarterback duties. Frasier and Raich hooked up for a touchdown play in Geneva's win over Indiana State last week.

Geneva plays Lycoming Saturday at Beaver Falls, then closes the season at home against Marietta on Nov. 18.

Bell, Potts Team Up...

RAY "BEAU" Bell of East Palestine and Jim Potts, the ex-Potter great, will attempt to team up for a Bowling Green victory Saturday when the Falcons play a crucial conference game at Ohio University.

The outcome could mean the Mid-American Conference championship.

Bell has been a consistent scorer and rusher for the Falcons. While at East Palestine he was the leading scorer in the district. A little small for fullback at 150, Bell is a tough competitor and has been a mainstay in Bowling Green's attack all season.

Ohio U. defeated Bowling Green last season, 14-7, for the MAC title.

We hope to be on hand to see Potts and Bell in action this weekend at Athens.

Chester Coach Shutters...

CHESTER HIGH basketball coach Max Tuttle just shook his head and ordered more tape when he learned that his star center Blaine Pinney had injured his ankle again.

This is getting to be an old routine for Tuttle. By this time he should be a master with a tape job.

The Panther coach said that the latest sprain is at least the fifth suffered by Pinney. He missed half of his sophomore season after a fine start, when he came up with a slight fracture.

The same thing happened again early his junior year and then later in the season. The latest sprain came about two weeks ago when he was practicing and came down on the side of his foot and the ankle went again. Pinney will be wearing a cast for awhile and with a "little bit of luck" and don't forget the tape he may be ready to perform for the Panthers when the season opens next month.

Interest Lacking In Cage Loop...

ONLY TWO teams indicated an interest in entering the City Basketball League when a meeting was held Thursday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The League would like to get underway in the next few weeks and the final meeting will be held next Thursday at 8:30 in the Hotel.

League officials are seeking six teams. The two represented last night were George Bright's and Newell Central Service. Bright's was represented by Allen Dawson and Central Service by Ted Robinson.

Unless more interest is shown next week the league will not be formed. Glenn Barnett and Ralph Crowe, both long associated with City League Baseball in East Liverpool, have agreed to serve as officers of the basketball loop.

This 'N That In Sports...

THROUGH an error from the school, the name of Don "Wilt" Spires was omitted from the honor roll at Stanton Local High School for the last six - week grading period.

Not only has Spires, a first team Class A all-state selection last year, been making great strikes on the basketball court but also in the classroom.

TUESDAY night at Pittsburgh's new Civic Auditorium before the Globetrotters took the floor, the public address announcer brought the full house down with the following announcement:

"Will the person with claim check 231 please report to the cloak room—your topcoat is leaking."

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Bud Manes begins his second season as head basketball coach at Thiel College. He has four lettermen returning but faces a height problem.

LAST WEEK'S prediction chart showed 7 right and 2 wrong. We go into the final week of the season with our percentage of correct picks running about .750.

Tonight we are picking the East Liverpool Potters to down Glenville, 22-6; Warren St. Mary's 14, Wellsville 6; New Cumberland 30, Chester 13; Carrollton 22, United 8; Columbiana 20, East Palestine 8; Hubbard 14, Lisbon 6; Salem 14, Dover 0 and Stanton Local 22, Malvern 14.

Saturday, Beaver Local should watch for a letdown, but we like the Beavers over Springfield, 24-8.

Top Bowlers To Vie In Cleveland Classic

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Professional Bowlers Association's $40,000 national championship meets gets under way in earnest today with a field that includes many of the top names in the bowling world.

In Thursday night's tuneup, a pro-amateur event, the honors were carried off by Stanley Cramer of Oaklyn, N.Y., a professional, and Bob Legg, 17, of Suburban Mayfield. Cramer rolled a 658, and Legg had a 489. With Legg's 204-pin handicap, that gave them a total of 1,351, nine better than the 1,342 posted by pro Bill Boyd of Warren, and Don Plath, former Akron sports writer. Boyd had a 673 and Plath added 573 plus his handicap of 96.

New Lineup Thrown At Glenville

After tonight the turf at Patterson Field can be rolled up and stored for another season as the East Liverpool Potters make their final home appearance against Cleveland Glenville. Kickoff is at 7:45.

The Potters won't ring down the curtain on the 1961 campaign until a week from now at Alliance. The always strong Aviators are currently ranked third in the state poll.

Coach Bob Hedmond of the Potters already has indicated numerous changes in tonight's starting lineup. He has revamped the backfield, with a group of sparkling sophomores winning starting positions.

Frank McComas will take over the reins at quarterback tonight, replacing another sophomore, Chuck Baker. McComas was impressive in last week's game with Salem after he broke into the lineup in the fourth quarter.

Earl Olmstead, who has been a key defensive performer in past games, and Bob Mercer, both sophomores, have the halfback spots.

The fullback position remains unchanged. Jerry Bell, the 155-pound senior, will be there.

Sophs Bill Hall, Bud Manley and Bruce Burbick will be starting on the forward wall. Hall is replacing Jim Richardson at end, Manley goes to tackle in place of Jeff Hayes and Burbick is at center for Ron Kennedy.

Tackle Jim Ferello, guards Bob Parsons and Jim Wilson and end Bud McElhaney round out the offensive eleven.

Glenville, a team the Potters have played on only one other occasion and defeated, 18-12, in 1954, brings a 1-7 record here tonight. However, two of those defeats were victories at one time before Glenville was forced to forfeit for using a player who was ineligible scholastically.

Glenville is paced by halfback Charley White and fullback Phil Sandidge.

Here's District Grid Schedule This Week

WVU, Penn State To Lure 25,000

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia University's football team faces here tomorrow, in Penn State's Nittany Lions, what Coach Gene Corum once called the "best pair of lines" he'd seen in college football.

That was the label Corum handed the Lions' forwards after WVU absorbed a 34-13 licking last year at State College, Pa. And most of those same players are back this season.

Both Penn State and WVU went through short drills in Mountaineer Field today, then settled back for tomorrow afternoon's 1:30 p. m. EST, kickoff before a Mountaineer Homecoming crowd expected to top 25,000.

Some WVU followers here felt that more interest has been generated in the game than for any since the 1955 Pitt clash. After a dismal beginning, the Mountaineers have stormed back to a 4-4 record.

A passing look at the starting lineup might give some the idea that Penn State will be facing another Pennsylvania crew. Five of the WVU starters are from the Keystone State, along with two on the second unit.

The first team includes ends Ken Herock and Dick Struck of Munhall, Pa., and Upper Darby, Pa., respectively; guard Keith Melenyzer and center Pete Goimarac, both of Charleroi, Pa., and halfback Tom Woodeshick, Wilkes-Barre.

End Bob Timmerman and fullback Steve Berzansky of the second unit are from Meadowlands, Pa., and Ellwood City, Pa., respectively.

Schayes' Goal Is To Score 20,000 Pts.

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'd like to reach 20,000 points and then maybe I think I might retire."

It was Dolph Schayes talking.

Schayes, the all-time scoring leader in the National Basketball Association, Thursday night had tied the mark of 682 consecutive games played as he scored 13 points in a disappointing 151-108 loss to the Philadelphia Warriors.

Someone wanted to know what Schayes next goal would be.

His answer of 20,000 points was quick but he doubted if he could accomplish the feat this year since he now has only 17,823 and averages from 1,500 to 1,800 a year. That would mean another season after this one.

"I'd like to play one more year after this," said the former New York University star who, at 33, is in his 13th season in the NBA.

"I feel good," he added, "although I'm not producing as well as I'd like to. But I'll get going and so will the team."

Schayes, who has often been critical of the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain, said he thought the 7-foot-1 Philadelphia center in 7 or 8 years would surpass him as the all-time leading scorer at the rate he has been going.

Chamberlain, who scored more than 3,000 points last year, is averaging 50 points a game. He racked up 55 points Thursday night as the Warriors ran up the largest score in the club's history.

OU-Bowling Green Battle May Decide Title In M-A

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Key games highlight Ohio's collegiate football card Saturday with championships at stake in two conferences.

The scene of the big one, of course, is Athens, where Ohio University tangles with rugged Bowling Green in a skirmish that could decide the Mid - American Conference winner.

Otterbein and Wittenberg, deadlocked atop the Ohio Conference heap have formidable foes in Capital and Ohio Wesleyan, respectively. Both leaders must win to claim the OC title.

Another feature on the 21-game program finds Ohio State journeying to Bloomington for a tiff with Indiana. Coach Woody Hayes' Buckeyes will be shooting for a sixth straight conquest in a bid to stay unbeaten in Big Ten competition.

In a headliner Saturday night, unblemished Baldwin Wallace (7-0) risks a perfect season against once - beaten Mid - Ohio League champion Findlay.

John Carroll meets Western Reserve in a must game for both. The victor in this one has a shot at the Presidents' Athletic crown.

Bowling Green, the nation's fourth - ranked team defensively, can assure itself of at least a tie for MAC honors with a win over Ohio U. But the Bobcats have a chance to grab it all with triumphs over the Falcons and Western Michigan the following Saturday.

Coach Doyt Perry's team has lost only to Miami, 7-6, while Ohio U. has a 5-2 mark.

Otterbein has a two-fold project going for it Saturday. The Cardinals can lock up at least a tie for OC laurels by whipping tough Capital. And a victory would give Otterbein a nifty 8-0 record with only one game left on the schedule.

Only Baldwin-Wallace, the nation's second-rated team in the Associated Press small college poll, matches Otterbein's unbeaten, untied showing.

In other attractions, Miami meets Dayton, Louisville opposes Kent State and Marshall faces Xavier.

Hayes Says Two Will Quarterback Bucks Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It'll be John Mummey and Joe Sparma quarterbacking for Ohio State Saturday when the Buckeyes take on Indiana. For the first time this season, injured Bill Mrukowski won't have the signal - calling chore.

Mrukowski hasn't practiced all week because of a cleat gash he received on his throwing hand in last Saturday's Iowa game. The Elyria junior, his right hand still bandaged and incapable of ball-handling, probably will see action against the Hoosiers, however, from a defensive halfback spot.

Also making the trip to Bloomington, Ind., today is defensive tackle George Tolford, recovered from a mild concussion he received in the Iowa fray.

In fact, all the Buckeyes are flying to Hoosierland except reserve guard Al Parker, who didn't play last week either because of a shoulder injury.

PGA Opens Membership, All Restrictions Lifted

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association has opened its membership door to Negroes and to golfers from every country of the world.

Until the constitution was amended Thursday at the annual PGA convention, membership had been limited to Caucasians from North and South America. Now there are no restrictions based on race, religion or nationality.

Lou Strong of Rochester, N.Y., PGA president elected for a second two-year term, said the constitutional changes most likely would not be noticeable on the pro-tournament circuit.

He noted that three Negroes have participated in PGA-sponsored tourneys, as well as players from countries outside the Western Hemisphere. Now, however, these players will be able to join the PGA.

Strong said that the 85 delegates, in amending the constitution, demonstrated "a realization of changing conditions in the world situation" by enacting a constructive measure coinciding with decisions set forth by the U.S. government."

Last November the PGA voted against eliminating the Caucasian clause. As a result Stanley Mosk, attorney general of California, said that he would force the PGA to "cease all activity of any kind" in his state until the clause was removed.

The 1962 PGA championship, originally scheduled for the Brentwood Club at Los Angeles, was shifted to the Aronomink Club near Philadelphia.

Missed Putts Mark Firing At Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — The story of the opening round of the $20,000 Beaumont Invitational Golf Tournament was one of missed putts.

That is, for everyone except youthful Don Fairfield of Casey, Ill.

While Fairfield and his five-under par 66 Thursday represented a two-stroke advantage in a closely-bunched field, his closest pursuers complained of short putts that might have been.

Jay Hebert of Miami, Fla., for instance, was four inches short on a three-footer on No. 9, giving him a bogey. But the grizzled veteran from Louisiana will never forget No. 1, a par 4 hole with a minimum of troublesome hazards.

Hebert rifled a six-iron 15 feet from the pin to begin his bid. His first putt eased downhill six feet beyond the flag. His second putt was 14 inches short, and he missed a third stroke by a half-inch, finally holing out on his fourth effort.

Hebert scorched the back side with a four-under 31 to get his 68, leaving him tied with Bob Rosburg of Portland, Ore., and unknown Gene Coghill of Penfield, N.Y. They are Fairfields main worries at the one-quarter mark.

Rens Suffer 1st Setback In New Loop

By The Associated Press

They've only played 16 games in the fledgling American Basketball League, but there isn't an undefeated team left among the eight apparently well-balanced members.

The Pittsburgh Rens and Hawaii Chiefs were the last to fall, both beaten Thursday night in a doubleheader at Washington. The host Tapers edged the Chiefs 92-91 and the Chicago Majors whipped the Rens 109-97.

In the only other game, the Cleveland Pipers nipped the San Francisco Saints 103-100.

The Tapers defeated the Chiefs when Warren Spaggins sank a field goal with 15 seconds left.

Chicago brought its record to 2-3 when Ron Zager broke an 88-88 tie with a field goal and a free throw that shot the Majors into a lead they never lost.

The Pipers won it despite six three-point field goals by the Saints as Cleveland's John Barnhill took high points honors with 28 and teammate Ben Wazley contributed 25.

All-State Time Again...

It's all-state time for football in Ohio, the ballots from the Associated Press having arrived yesterday.

Gridders in the area who we feel deserve recognition hail from Beaver Local and Stanton Local.

High on the list are Beaver Local's Dave Myers, and Carl Hoppel and Stanton's fine quarterback Bob Mills and halfback Stan Wickham.

Myers, a 165-pound guard-linebacker, is the best lineman we have seen on the high school scene this season. As a sophomore in 1960, he was placed on the all-county team, the only sophomore to make the squad.

Hoppel is the leading scorer in the district with 85 points. He has tallied against every opponent and has been held under 100 yards only once. That came in last Saturday's game with Wellsville.

The 155-pound Hoppel has carried an average of 20 times a game.

Mills and Wickham will rate a vote on the Class "A" team. Mills has been a steady performer at the Irondale school for three seasons, while Wickham has come into his own this year. Currently, Wickham is the second leading scorer in the district.

Zelch In Key Role...

"GEORGIA'S fastest back, Don Blackburn, slid outside Miami's right end and cut back sharply. Two Georgia blockers came from the other side of the field and Blackburn appeared headed for a touchdown, but Dave Zelch came up from his defensive halfback position and made an excellent tackle to halt the Georgia runner. Zelch was the only Miami player between Blackburn and the goal line."

This was written about the former East Liverpool gridder who is doing a fine job at the University of Miami.

Zelch was out of action for a month with a bad ankle, but the defensive standout was back in action and turned in several plays in Miami's, 32-7, victory over Georgia last week.

He came out of the Georgia tussle in good shape and will be ready for more action Saturday in New Orleans when Miami tackles Tulane. The Hurricanes are on the winning side of the ledger with a 4-3 mark and have captured their last two outings.

3 Area Gridders At Geneva...

THE LOCAL area is well represented in Geneva's starting lineup. From Chester is Bill Mayhew, a 160-pound halfback who has been a regular all season in his sophomore year.

Midland is represented by Mike Raich (185), who handles left end, and Dan Frasier, a South Side product, has taken over the regular quarterback duties. Frasier and Raich hooked up for a touchdown play in Geneva's win over Indiana State last week.

Geneva plays Lycoming Saturday at Beaver Falls, then closes the season at home against Marietta on Nov. 18.

Bell, Potts Team Up...

RAY "BEAU" Bell of East Palestine and Jim Potts, the ex-Potter great, will attempt to team up for a Bowling Green victory Saturday when the Falcons play a crucial conference game at Ohio University.

The outcome could mean the Mid-American Conference championship.

Bell has been a consistent scorer and rusher for the Falcons. While at East Palestine he was the leading scorer in the district. A little small for fullback at 150, Bell is a tough competitor and has been a mainstay in Bowling Green's attack all season.

Ohio U. defeated Bowling Green last season, 14-7, for the MAC title.

We hope to be on hand to see Potts and Bell in action this weekend at Athens.

Chester Coach Shutters...

CHESTER HIGH basketball coach Max Tuttle just shook his head and ordered more tape when he learned that his star center Blaine Pinney had injured his ankle again.

This is getting to be an old routine for Tuttle. By this time he should be a master with a tape job.

The Panther coach said that the latest sprain is at least the fifth suffered by Pinney. He missed half of his sophomore season after a fine start, when he came up with a slight fracture.

The same thing happened again early his junior year and then later in the season. The latest sprain came about two weeks ago when he was practicing and came down on the side of his foot and the ankle went again. Pinney will be wearing a cast for awhile and with a "little bit of luck" and don't forget the tape he may be ready to perform for the Panthers when the season opens next month.

Interest Lacking In Cage Loop...

ONLY TWO teams indicated an interest in entering the City Basketball League when a meeting was held Thursday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The League would like to get underway in the next few weeks and the final meeting will be held next Thursday at 8:30 in the Hotel.

League officials are seeking six teams. The two represented last night were George Bright's and Newell Central Service. Bright's was represented by Allen Dawson and Central Service by Ted Robinson.

Unless more interest is shown next week the league will not be formed. Glenn Barnett and Ralph Crowe, both long associated with City League Baseball in East Liverpool, have agreed to serve as officers of the basketball loop.

This 'N That In Sports...

THROUGH an error from the school, the name of Don "Wilt" Spires was omitted from the honor roll at Stanton Local High School for the last six - week grading period.

Not only has Spires, a first team Class A all-state selection last year, been making great strikes on the basketball court but also in the classroom.

TUESDAY night at Pittsburgh's new Civic Auditorium before the Globetrotters took the floor, the public address announcer brought the full house down with the following announcement:

"Will the person with claim check 231 please report to the cloak room—your topcoat is leaking."

—:—

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Bud Manes begins his second season as head basketball coach at Thiel College. He has four lettermen returning but faces a height problem.

LAST WEEK'S prediction chart showed 7 right and 2 wrong. We go into the final week of the season with our percentage of correct picks running about .750.

Tonight we are picking the East Liverpool Potters to down Glenville, 22-6; Warren St. Mary's 14, Wellsville 6; New Cumberland 30, Chester 13; Carrollton 22, United 8; Columbiana 20, East Palestine 8; Hubbard 14, Lisbon 6; Salem 14, Dover 0 and Stanton Local 22, Malvern 14.

Saturday, Beaver Local should watch for a letdown, but we like the Beavers over Springfield, 24-8.

Top Bowlers To Vie In Cleveland Classic

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Professional Bowlers Association's $40,000 national championship meets gets under way in earnest today with a field that includes many of the top names in the bowling world.

In Thursday night's tuneup, a pro-amateur event, the honors were carried off by Stanley Cramer of Oaklyn, N.Y., a professional, and Bob Legg, 17, of Suburban Mayfield. Cramer rolled a 658, and Legg had a 489. With Legg's 204-pin handicap, that gave them a total of 1,351, nine better than the 1,342 posted by pro Bill Boyd of Warren, and Don Plath, former Akron sports writer. Boyd had a 673 and Plath added 573 plus his handicap of 96.

New Lineup Thrown At Glenville

After tonight the turf at Patterson Field can be rolled up and stored for another season as the East Liverpool Potters make their final home appearance against Cleveland Glenville. Kickoff is at 7:45.

The Potters won't ring down the curtain on the 1961 campaign until a week from now at Alliance. The always strong Aviators are currently ranked third in the state poll.

Coach Bob Hedmond of the Potters already has indicated numerous changes in tonight's starting lineup. He has revamped the backfield, with a group of sparkling sophomores winning starting positions.

Frank McComas will take over the reins at quarterback tonight, replacing another sophomore, Chuck Baker. McComas was impressive in last week's game with Salem after he broke into the lineup in the fourth quarter.

Earl Olmstead, who has been a key defensive performer in past games, and Bob Mercer, both sophomores, have the halfback spots.

The fullback position remains unchanged. Jerry Bell, the 155-pound senior, will be there.

Sophs Bill Hall, Bud Manley and Bruce Burbick will be starting on the forward wall. Hall is replacing Jim Richardson at end, Manley goes to tackle in place of Jeff Hayes and Burbick is at center for Ron Kennedy.

Tackle Jim Ferello, guards Bob Parsons and Jim Wilson and end Bud McElhaney round out the offensive eleven.

Glenville, a team the Potters have played on only one other occasion and defeated, 18-12, in 1954, brings a 1-7 record here tonight. However, two of those defeats were victories at one time before Glenville was forced to forfeit for using a player who was ineligible scholastically.

Glenville is paced by halfback Charley White and fullback Phil Sandidge.

Schayes' Goal Is To Score 20,000 Pts.

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'd like to reach 20,000 points and then maybe I think I might retire."

It was Dolph Schayes talking.

Schayes, the all-time scoring leader in the National Basketball Association, Thursday night had tied the mark of 682 consecutive games played as he scored 13 points in a disappointing 151-108 loss to the Philadelphia Warriors.

Someone wanted to know what Schayes next goal would be.

His answer of 20,000 points was quick but he doubted if he could accomplish the feat this year since he now has only 17,823 and averages from 1,500 to 1,800 a year. That would mean another season after this one.

"I'd like to play one more year after this," said the former New York University star who, at 33, is in his 13th season in the NBA.

"I feel good," he added, "although I'm not producing as well as I'd like to. But I'll get going and so will the team."

Schayes, who has often been critical of the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain, said he thought the 7-foot-1 Philadelphia center in 7 or 8 years would surpass him as the all-time leading scorer at the rate he has been going.

Chamberlain, who scored more than 3,000 points last year, is averaging 50 points a game. He racked up 55 points Thursday night as the Warriors ran up the largest score in the club's history.

Minnesota Meets Iowa In Big One

By JACK CLARY
ciated Press Sports Writer

as, the nation's top-ranked ge football team, Minnesota, gan State and Georgia Tech re watching their steps this end.

se are the top teams who nost in danger of losing lofty ing as the weekend schedule nly switches from its fever- of a week ago to something ly resembling sanity.

eyes will be on Texas to f the Longhorns can stand aff, after being named No. 1 latest Associated Press poll. they'll get a good test from r, whose fine backs still are ing a bit from a rash of -season injuries.

Longhorns, leading the west Conference with a 4-0 , and 7-0 over-all, are the n's offense leaders. The horns' defense, ranked sev- with an average yield of will have to cope with half- Ronnie Bull of the Bears nesota (No. 5), off its thrill- 3-0 upset of then top-ranked igan State last week, now into Iowa, which has lost two row. The Gophers, tied for ig Ten lead with third-ranked State (4-0), will have to cope Iowa's speed and passing that has averaged 349 yards a game, ranking eighth in total offense. The game will be televised regionally (ABC-TV, 2:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.)

Michigan State, ranked sixth after its loss to the Gophers, has another toughie in upset-minded Purdue. The Boilermakers upset Iowa two weeks ago and are 2-1 in the Big Ten. The Spartans, with an offense that has averaged 331 yards a game, are 3-1, and still in the race.

Ohio State has a relatively easy task against Indiana, in another Big Ten game. The Buckeyes (No. 3), led by Bob Ferguson's charging ground attacks, are 5-0-1 overall, with the All-America fullback having gained 636 yards rushing so far.

Georgia Tech, one of four Southeastern schools in the top ten, has the toughest assignment. The ninth-ranked Engineers meet SEC-member Tennessee, with Tech just a step behind the leaders with a 3-1 mark.

Alabama, ranked second and leading the conference with 5-0, plays Richmond and is heavily favored while fourth-ranked Louisiana State, which ended Mississippi's dreams a week ago, is expected to have a bit of trouble from North Carolina, co-leader in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Mississippi, (No. 7), plays little Chattanooga.

Colorado, ranked eighth and first in the Big Eight, pits its 7-0 record against Utah of the Skyline, while Missouri (No. 10), also of the Big Eight plays Oklahoma, only 1-5 so far, in a conference game.

Second Found In Jacksonville

Two Living Who Played In 1st Basketball Game

By ART HARRIS
Sports Editor
Jacksonville (Ill.) Journal-Courier

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., (AP) — Basketball's second oldest surviving "child," forgotten at recent ceremonies marking the game's birth, has been found.

"Evidently, they must have thought I was dead," Ernest G. Hildner, 88, of Jacksonville, said when he heard of the festive occasion last week in Springfield, Mass.

Hildner, a retired Presbyterian minister, was the youngest member of the YMCA training school class that helped Dr. James Naismith bring his New England cold weather cure-all into the world, using peach baskets as cradles in 1891.

The spry oldtimer said he was not hurt at being overlooked at the commemorative event marking the 70th birthday of basketball and the 100th anniversary of Naismith's birth.

"I'd just like to set the record straight that there are two living members of that class instead of one," Hildner mused in referring to Raymond Kaighn, who had been described as the "only living member."

Kaighn, Hildner agrees, was there that morning when "Jimmie" (Naismith) walked into the gymnasium at the Springfield school for YMCA physical education instructors and secretaries and said: "Let's try this."

"We hoisted the peach baskets to their perches on the indoor track gallery above the basketball floor," Hildner recalled. "Jimmie divided the class, and the game began with brute force."

The 1893 graduate of the school is convinced that no one on the floor that bleak winter day was aware of what soon would develop.

8 Entered In $70,000 International

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The Soviets and Americans were at it again today over a $70,000 international prize.

The money will go to the winner of Saturday's 10th International race in which eight entries representing six nations will compete at a mile and a half on the grass.

"Zabeg will win the International," Soviet trainer Yevgeni Gootblieb stated flatly.

"The Americans will have a little to say about that," retorted wizened jockey Johnny Longden.

Longden, 54, whose 5,556 race victories lead the world, will be astride T. V. Lark, one of the two U.S. entries. The other part of the formidable home team is Kelso, who has lost only four times in 20 races over a three-year span and is generally considered the best U.S. horse in training.

Carl Hanford, Kelso's trainer, smiled when informed of Gottlieb's boast. "That's what they came all the way over for," he said.

Zabeg finished third in last year's International, the best finish by a Soviet horse in three of the invitation affairs.

The second half of the Soviet punch is Irtysch, a chestnut with a reddish tint.

Kicker Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns has been playing pro football 16 seasons.

Bantam Title Match Scheduled For Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A world bantamweight championship boxing match is planned for San Francisco next Feb. 22 with Eder Jofre of Brazil defending against one of three challengers.

George Parnassus of Los Angeles and Lou Thomas of San Francisco announced plans for the fight Thursday.

Parnassus said Jofre's manager, Abraham Ketznelson, had agreed to a title bout. The foe would be Herman Marquez of Stockton, the California champion, Ignacio Pina or Jose Medel, both of Mexico.

Medel is the No. 2 ranking contender and Pina No. 5.

City Girl In New York Horse Show Returns

Miss Diane Hall has returned from New York City after competing in the National Horse Show last week in Madison Square Garden.

She was chosen in the top 10 winners in the equitation class but never made the medalists as her horse became temperamental before the competition was completed.

There were 40 in the class for which she was qualified after winning all the area contests in the age division of 14-17. Equestriennes from all over the states competed.

If she qualifies next year, she will try again. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hall of Armstrong Ln., she was accompanied to New York by her mother.

She will be featured in a story in next week's Sports Illustrated magazine.

Layne Ready But Parker Plans To Start Bukich

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers isn't used to warming the bench.

But that's where the National Football League star will find himself—at least at the opening kickoff—when the Steelers meet the Dallas Cowboys at Forbes Field Sunday.

Layne, rarely a second stringer in his 14-year professional career, has been on the 30-day injured reserve list and will be in uniform for the first time in five weeks. In the meantime, his erstwhile substitute—Rudy Bukich — has led the rejuvenated Steelers to three wins in the last four games.

"Layne looks pretty good in practice," Coach Buddy Parker said at the Steelers' training ground Thursday. "But I'm going to start Bukich. He's been playing pretty good. Layne will probably play but it will actually depend on how the game goes."

All-Ohio Football Teams To Be Picked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Associated Press started assembling information today to be used in selecting the Class AA and Class A high school All-Ohio football teams for 1961.

Ballots were mailed to all member newspapers, radio and television stations, and about one-third of the coaches, asking for details on the top players.

Such information from coaches not receiving the regular blanks is welcomed. It should be mailed to Fritz Howell, P.O.Box 1812, The Associated Press, Columbus.

The All-Ohio teams will be selected late this month, and the ballot deadline is Wednesday, Nov. 22.

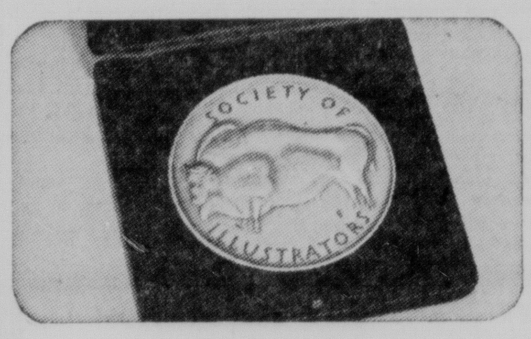
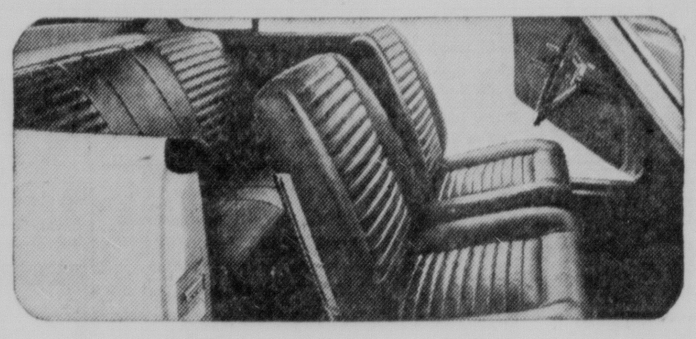
The one low-price compact that's every bit as lively as it looks—Valiant '62!





You're looking at the sports-loving compact car given an award of merit by the Society of Illustrators for design excellence! Come see it!

Unlike some compacts, Valiant will take off like a scared kitten at the drop of a "Scat!" You'd have to pay extra for an optional engine in most any other compact at Valiant's price to match Valiant's standard 101-hp Economy Six.

A modified version of this engine shot Valiant to victory over all American compacts competing in the 1960 and '61 Daytona Beach compact car competitions! Yet, for all its go, Valiant puts plenty of carefree miles between gas pumps. A Valiant scored 26.13 mpg in the last Mobilgas Economy Run!

And this new Valiant has the distinctive good looks to match its gumption. America's most famous artists recently honored the 1962 Valiant. For the first time in seven years, the Awards Committee of the Society of Illustrators has bestowed its coveted citation on a car—Valiant!

That's even more proof that the 1962 Valiant is indeed the Style Leader of the Compacts!

For looks and liveliness, you just can't match Valiant at Valiant's low initial price! And this year's Valiant offers a bundle of economy extras. Like half-as-often oil changes and almost-never 32,000-mile lubrication on major chassis points. See your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. Drive the low-price compact that's quality-engineered by Chrysler Corporation. Find out why . . .

Nobody beats VALIANT for value!

Minnesota Meets Iowa In Big One

By JACK CLARY
ciated Press Sports Writer

as, the nation's top-ranked ge football team, Minnesota, gan State and Georgia Tech re watching their steps this end.

se are the top teams who ost in danger of losing lofty ing as the weekend schedule nly switches from its fever- of a week ago to something y resembling sanity.

n tonight's schedule is inter-g, though not power-packed. Christian goes to the West to battle Big Five leader , while Detroit, minus na- offense leader Jerry Gross, a good Villanova team and an of the Southern Confer- hosts East Carolina.

eyes will be on Texas to f the Longhorns can stand aff, after being named No. 1 latest Associated Press poll. they'll get a good test from r, whose fine backs still are ing a bit from a rash of season injuries.

Longhorns, leading the west Conference with a 4-0 , and 7-0 over-all, are the n's offense leaders. The horns' defense, ranked sev- with an average yield of will have to cope with half- Ronnie Bull of the Bears

nesota (No. 5), off its thrill- 3-0 upset of then top-ranked igan State last week, now into Iowa, which has lost two row. The Gophers, tied for ig Ten lead with third-ranked State (4-0), will have to cope Iowa's speed and passing that has averaged 349 yards a game, ranking eighth in total offense. The game will be televised regionally (ABC-TV, 2:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.)

Michigan State, ranked sixth after its loss to the Gophers, has another toughie in upset-minded Purdue. The Boilermakers upset Iowa two weeks ago and are 2-1 in the Big Ten. The Spartans, with an offense that has averaged 331 yards a game, are 3-1, and still in the race.

Ohio State has a relatively easy task against Indiana, in another Big Ten game. The Buckeyes (No. 3), led by Bob Ferguson's charging ground attacks, are 5-0-1 over-all, with the All-America fullback having gained 636 yards rushing so far.

Georgia Tech, one of four Southeastern schools in the top ten, has the toughest assignment. The ninth-ranked Engineers meet SEC-member Tennessee, with Tech just a step behind the leaders with a 3-1 mark.

Alabama, ranked second and leading the conference with 5-0, plays Richmond and is heavily favored while fourth-ranked Louisiana State, which ended Mississippi's dreams a week ago, is expected to have a bit of trouble from North Carolina, co-leader in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Mississippi, (No. 7), plays little Chattanooga.

Colorado, ranked eighth and first in the Big Eight, pits its 7-0 record against Utah of the Skyline, while Missouri (No. 10), also of the Big Eight plays Oklahoma, only 1-5 so far, in a conference game.

Second Found In Jacksonville

Two Living Who Played In 1st Basketball Game

By ART HARRIS
Sports Editor
Jacksonville (Il.) Journal-Courier

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., (AP) — Basketball's second oldest surviving "child," forgotten at recent ceremonies marking the game's birth, has been found.

"Evidently, they must have thought I was dead," Ernest G. Hildner, 88, of Jacksonville, said when he heard of the festive occasion last week in Springfield, Mass.

Hildner, a retired Presbyterian minister, was the youngest member of the YMCA training school class that helped Dr. James Naismith bring his New England cold weather cure-all into the world, using peach baskets as cradles in 1891.

The spry oldtimer said he was not hurt at being overlooked at the commemorative event marking the 70th birthday of basketball and the 100th anniversary of Naismith's birth.

"I'd just like to set the record straight that there are two living members of that class instead of one," Hildner mused in referring to Raymond Kaighn, who had been described as the "only living member."

Kaighn, Hildner agrees, was there that morning when "Jimmie" (Naismith) walked into the gymnasium at the Springfield school for YMCA physical education instructors and secretaries and said: "Let's try this."

"We hoisted the peach baskets to their perches on the indoor track gallery above the basketball floor," Hildner recalled. "Jimmie divided the class, and the game began with brute force."

The 1893 graduate of the school is convinced that no one on the floor that bleak winter day was aware of what soon would develop.

FIGHT RESULTS

Los Angeles — Eddie Garcia, 135, Denver, outpointed Jose Luis Cruz, 134, Mexico City, 10.

Philadelphia — Sidney Adams, 138, Philadelphia, outpointed J. D. Ellis, 138, Trenton, N. J., 10.

Tokyo—Haruo Sakamoto, 122½, Japan, and Kozo Nagata, 122¾, Japan, drew, 10.

Auckland, New Zealand—Tuna Scanlan, Samoa, knocked out Johnny Smith, Los Angeles, 122, middleweights.

Bantam Title Match Scheduled For Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A world bantamweight championship boxing match is planned for San Francisco next Feb. 22 with Eder Jofre of Brazil defending against one of three challengers.

George Parnassus of Los Angeles and Lou Thomas of San Francisco announced plans for the fight Thursday.

Parnassus said Jofre's manager, Abraham Ketznelson, had agreed to a title bout. The foe would be Herman Marquez of Stockton, the California champion, Ignacio Pina or Jose Medel, both of Mexico.

Medel is the No. 2 ranking contender and Pina No. 5.

City Girl In New York Horse Show Returns

Miss Diane Hall has returned from New York City after competing in the National Horse Show last week in Madison Square Garden.

She was chosen in the top 10 winners in the equitation class but never made the medalists as her horse became temperamental before the competition was completed.

There were 40 in the class for which she was qualified after winning all the area contests in the age division of 14-17. Equestriennes from all over the states competed.

If she qualifies next year, she will try again. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hall of Armstrong Ln., she was accompanied to New York by her mother.

She will be featured in a story in next week's Sports Illustrated magazine.

Layne Ready But Parker Plans To Start Bukich

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Quarterback Bobby Layne of the Pittsburgh Steelers isn't used to warming the bench.

But that's where the National Football League star will find himself—at least at the opening kickoff—when the Steelers meet the Dallas Cowboys at Forbes Field Sunday.

Layne, rarely a second stringer in his 14-year professional career, has been on the 30-day injured reserve list and will be in uniform for the first time in five weeks. In the meantime, his erstwhile substitute—Rudy Bukich — has led the rejuvenated Steelers to three wins in the last four games.

"Layne looks pretty good in practice," Coach Buddy Parker said at the Steelers' training ground Thursday. "But I'm going to start Bukich. He's been playing pretty good. Layne will probably play but it will actually depend on how the game goes."

8 Entered In $70,000 International

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — The Soviets and Americans were at it again today over a $70,000 international prize.

The money will go to the winner of Saturday's 10th International race in which eight entries representing six nations will compete at a mile and a half on the grass.

"Zabeg will win the International," Soviet trainer Yevgeni Gottlieb stated flatly.

"The Americans will have a little to say about that," retorted wizened jockey Johnny Longden.

Longden, 54, whose 5,556 race victories lead the world, will be astride T. V. Lark, one of the two U.S. entries. The other part of the formidable home team is Kelso, who has lost only four times in 20 races over a three-year span and is generally considered the best U.S. horse in training.

Carl Hanford, Kelso's trainer, smiled when informed of Gottlieb's boast. "That's what they came all the way over for," he said.

Zabeg finished third in last year's International, the best finish by a Soviet horse in three of the invitation affairs.

The second half of the Soviet punch is Irtysch, a chestnut with a reddish tint.

All-Ohio Football Teams To Be Picked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Associated Press started assembling information today to be used in selecting the Class AA and Class A high school All-Ohio football teams for 1961.

Ballots were mailed to all member newspapers, radio and television stations, and about one-third of the coaches, asking for details on the top players.

Such information from coaches not receiving the regular blanks is welcomed. It should be mailed to Fritz Howell, P.O.Box 1812, The Associated Press, Columbus.

The All-Ohio teams will be selected late this month, and the ballot deadline is Wednesday, Nov. 22.

Best lifetime batting average for a member of the Hall of Fame is the .367 turned in by Ty Cobb. Rogers Hornsby is second with .358.

Kicker Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns has been playing pro football 16 seasons.

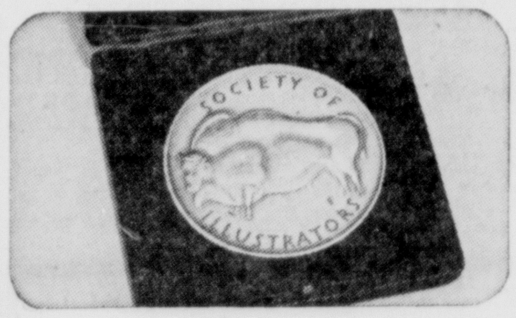
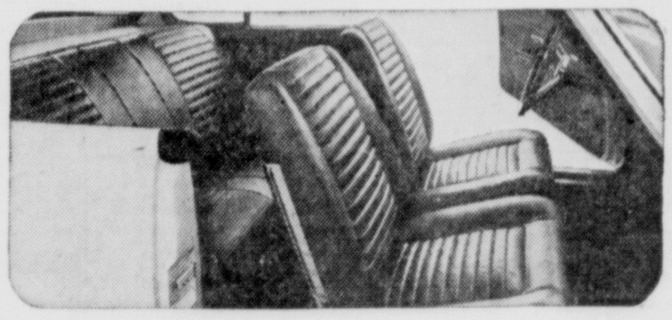
The one low-price compact that's every bit as lively as it looks—Valiant '62!





You're looking at the sports-loving compact car given an award of merit by the Society of Illustrators for design excellence! Come see it!

Unlike some compacts, Valiant will take off like a scared kitten at the drop of a "Scat!" You'd have to pay extra for an optional engine in most any other compact at Valiant's price to match Valiant's standard 101-hp Economy Six.

A modified version of this engine shot Valiant to victory over all American compacts competing in the 1960 and '61 Daytona Beach compact car competitions! Yet, for all its go, Valiant puts plenty of carefree miles between gas pumps. A Valiant scored 26.13 mpg in the last Mobilgas Economy Run!

And this new Valiant has the distinctive good looks to match its gumption. America's most famous artists recently honored the 1962 Valiant. For the first time in seven years, the Awards Committee of the Society of Illustrators has bestowed its coveted citation on a car—Valiant!

That's even more proof that the 1962 Valiant is indeed the Style Leader of the Compacts!

For looks and liveliness, you just can't match Valiant at Valiant's low initial price! And this year's Valiant offers a bundle of economy extras. Like half-as-often oil changes and almost-never 32,000-mile lubrication on major chassis points. See your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. Drive the low-price compact that's quality-engineered by Chrysler Corporation. Find out why...

Nobody beats VALIANT for value!

HAL HUMPHREY

Rose Marie Is A Star In Palisade, N. J.

Rose Marie has a regular role (she plays a writer) on CBS-TV's "Dick Van Dyke Show." But in a recent episode she appeared only briefly at the start, and this caused considerable consternation in the town of Palisade, N.J.

Hal Humphrey

The very next day Rose Marie received a letter from Palisade which read: "Where were you tonight, honey? I looked around and you had gone. Please tell Earl Randolph and Seldom Bernardi that all of the people here asked me about you.

"Your name was in the TV schedule, so they watched the show because they saw your name, and where were you? They asked me if you were in every week, and I said I didn't know now.

"But thank goodness, nobody can point a finger at you. Just do your work and kill them with all the talent you got in your little finger. They still got a lot to learn. Love, Mother."

FOR SHEER lyric prose and the ad-libbed malaprop, Rose Marie will stand her mother up along side Georgie Jessel's mom or Gracie Allen any day — and give points.

"Nobody believes my mother," says cavern-voiced Rose Marie, "until they meet her. She's a gas!"

For some reason which Rose Marie never has quite fathomed, her mother always has invented her own names for people. The "Earl Randolph" and "Seldom Bernardi" mentioned in the foregoing letter refer to Carl Reiner and Sheldon Leonard, who write and produce the "Dick Van Dyke Show," which, incidentally, is called the "Dick Van Dick Show" by Rose Marie's mother.

MAYBE IT'S because Stella Curley (that's her mother's real name) has trouble remembering names, but rather than confess to such laxity she coins one she can remember. Rose Marie is the only one possessing the seventh sense necessary to figure out what name goes with which person.

"Some are fairly easy to dope out, Rose Marie says. For example, when she wrote that she liked 'the little kid on your show because he looks like another Freddy Barcelona,' I had no trouble guessing she meant Freddie Bartholomew."

On the set at Desilu Studios where the show is filmed, anyone who hasn't got a name from Rose Marie's mother feels slighted.

Morey Amsterdam is just plain Murray. Mary Tyler Moore (who plays Dick's wife) is Minnie Dapper. A psychiatrist might figure he had a substitute for the Rorschach test (ink blots), if he could match up Stella's name associations.

IN ANOTHER of her mother's weekly letters Rose Marie read this newsy item:

"In the market they have a magazine with a picture with you and Murray on it and it sold out right away. It's free when you buy at the store, but my friends buy a lot and took one each time.

"Tell the people there that your cover was sold out at the market even faster than the one with that Benny Cossack's picture on it."

Rose Marie had just about given up on Benny Cossack, until she came across the magazine herself and found to her relief that it had Ernie Kovacs' picture on the cover.

"I can't imagine how I happened to flub that one," says Rose Marie.

It has been only the past 10 years that Stella Curley has taken a passionate interest in her daughter's career.

-:-

"WHEN I WAS in vaudeville and radio as Baby Rose Marie, it was my father who stood in the wings," she related. "Mother never was what they call a stage mother. My father was the one who battled for my career. After he died, then I think Mother decided she should kind of fill in."

Rose Marie retired when she was around 14, despite the fact that her voice and poise caused one reviewer to accuse her of being a "45-year-old midget."

In the past 14 or 15 years Rose Marie has proved herself an accomplished comedienne and actress, and her mother isn't the only one who feels she should have more to do on the "Dick Van Dick Show."

Stella Curley ended her most recent letter to her daughter with the following typical mixed - up emotional concern:

"How come you don't do other guest shots when you're not working like everybody else does, I love you anyway, Mother."

Secrecy Surrounds Jury Numbers Probe

CINCINNATI (AP) — A tight wall of secrecy has surrounded a federal grand jury probe of numbers operations in greater Cincinnati.

Two Justice Department attorneys declined any comment Thursday on activity of the panel, which has indicted two Cincinnati women on charges of making false statements about their work in a onetime night club in Newport, Ky.

Killed In Accident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Emerson Schleppi, 40, of Columbus was killed Thursday night when he lost control of his station wageon on U.S. 33 here, police said.

Railroad Ties Snag Boy, 12

A Wellsville boy whose foot caught in railroad ties and a Wellsville girl who fell from a tree were among five area residents treated at City Hospital Thursday.

Robert Burgess, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess, 1810 Nevada St., Wellsville, was treated last night for a severe sprain of the left ankle and foot after he was snagged in ties on the way home from school.

Tina Craven, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Craven, 1716 Commerce St., was treated for a fracture of the left arm suffered in a fall from a tree.

Tony Frank, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Frank, 521 Virginia Ave., received a laceration of the chin in a fall to the floor at home.

Sharon Fletcher, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fletcher of New Cumberland R. D 2, received a cut and bruise of the right eye when struck by a swinging door at Wells High School.

Mrs. Norma Poynter, 31, of 225 Haywood St. was treated for a cut of the right thumb suffered on a dish at home.

New Martinsville's Plant Strike Settled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The federal mediation service here announced today tentative settlement of a 23-week old strike by Local 45 of the International Chemical Workers Union at the New Martinsville, W. Va., plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

Federal Mediator Arthur Wellman said terms of the settlement would not be disclosed until it is ratified by the membership. A meeting is scheduled for Saturday in New Martinsville.

Publication Suspended By Ohio Weekly Paper

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Rising costs of production have outstripped income, say Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riel, forcing them to cease publication of their weekly newspaper, The West Liberty Banner.

The paper, founded in 1882 in nearby West Liberty, turned out its last edition Thursday. The Riels have published the weekly the past five years.

Campaign's In January

Richard G. Brian To Head County 'March Of Dimes'

County Recorder Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool will head the March of Dimes drive in Columbiana County in January.

His appointment was announced by Vern Reynolds of Columbus, Ohio chairman of the National Foundation, which holds the fund-raising drive annually. For the past five years, Brian has been southern county chairman of the campaign.

Brian announced that the 1962 drive will be pushed particularly in the northern county area, where a full-scale campaign has not been held for years. The northern county area includes the communities of Leetonia, Damascus, Homeworth, Unity, East Palestine, Columbiana, Salem and Lisbon.

The southern county area takes in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville and Summitville.

Most of the principal campaign leaders also have been chosen, Brian announced.

Rex R. Reich of Salem will serve as chairman of the northern county drive as well as head of the Salem campaign.

John B. Hales, 589 Blackmore St., pressman at The Review, will be East Liverpool chairman. The annual Mothers March on Polio, a one-night door-to-door canvass, will be directed by Mrs. Dorothy Crooks of Sturgis Ave., Mrs. Mossie Martin, 817 Illinois Ave., Mrs. Betty Anderson, 1012 Avondale St., and Mrs. Jean Snow, 1519 Wyoming Ave. The Wellsville drive will be directed by Mrs. Floreine Broderick, 609 Broadway, and Mrs. Pat Beatty, 604 Commerce St.

John Snyder Jr., 381 Pine St., will be community chairman at Lisbon. The "mother's march" chairman for Lisbon will be named later, Brian said.

Other community chairmen are: Leetonia, Mrs. Mildred Arfman, 235 High St.; Columbiana, Mrs. James Magill, 236 N. Elm St., and Damascus, Mrs. Eileen Bush.

C. H. Musser of the First National Bank at Salem will continue as treasurer. He will receive contributions by mail from throughout the county.

As in the past, American Legion posts will be asked to stage "crock of dimes" drives to aid the campaign and school superintendents will be requested to allow fund - raising among students, Brian said.

Home Demonstration Group Sets Election

The newly - organized Home Demonstration Group of the Columbiana County Extension Service will elect officers at a meeting Tuesday at 1 p. m.

It will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert Thompson of the Cannons Mills - Calcutta Rd. The group will also discuss forthcoming projects.

Women interested in joining may attend the meeting or call Mrs. John Boyd, acting chairman, at FU. 5-5498.

2 Officials Resign From Labor League

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, and John J. McGinty, assistant executive secretary, have resigned from the Cleveland Federated League, a political organization.

Their resignations came at the request of AFL-CIO President George Meany, the AFL-CIO reported Thursday. Finegan's handling of union funds is being investigated by AFL-CIO auditors, following his guilty plea to charges of federal income tax evasion.

New Martinsville's Plant Strike Settled

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The federal mediation service here announced today tentative settlement of a 23-week old strike by Local 45 of the International Chemical Workers Union at the New Martinsville, W. Va., plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

Federal Mediator Arthur Wellman said terms of the settlement would not be disclosed until it is ratified by the membership. A meeting is scheduled for Saturday in New Martinsville.

Publication Suspended By Ohio Weekly Paper

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) —Rising costs of production have outstripped income, say Mr. and Mrs. Richard Riel, forcing them to cease publication of their weekly newspaper, The West Liberty Banner.

The paper, founded in 1882 in nearby West Liberty, turned out its last edition Thursday. The Riels have published the weekly the past five years.

Campaign's In January

Richard G. Brian To Head County 'March Of Dimes'

County Recorder Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool will head the March of Dimes drive in Columbiana County in January.

His appointment was announced by Vern Reynolds of Columbus, Ohio chairman of the National Foundation, which holds the fund-raising drive annually. For the past five years, Brian has been southern county chairman of the campaign.

Brian announced that the 1962 drive will be pushed particularly in the northern county area, where a full-scale campaign has not been held for years. The northern county area includes the communities of Leetonia, Damascus, Homeworth, Unity, East Palestine, Columbiana, Salem and Lisbon.

The southern county area takes in East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville and Summitville.

Most of the principal campaign leaders also have been chosen, Brian announced.

Rex R. Reich of Salem will serve as chairman of the northern county drive as well as head of the Salem campaign.

John B. Hales, 589 Blackmore St., pressman at The Review, will be East Liverpool chairman. The annual Mothers March on Polio, a one-night door-to-door canvass, will be directed by Mrs. Dorothy Crooks of Sturgis Ave., Mrs. Mossie Martin, 817 Illinois Ave., Mrs. Betty Anderson, 1012 Avondale St., and Mrs. Jean Snow, 1519 Wyoming Ave. The Wellsville drive will be directed by Mrs. Floreine Broderick, 609 Broadway, and Mrs. Pat Beatty, 604 Commerce St.

John Snyder Jr., 381 Pine St., will be community chairman at Lisbon. The "mother's march" chairman for Lisbon will be named later, Brian said.

Other community chairmen are: Leetonia, Mrs. Mildred Arfman, 235 High St.; Columbiana, Mrs. James Magill, 236 N. Elm St., and Damascus, Mrs. Eileen Bush.

C. H. Musser of the First National Bank at Salem will continue as treasurer. He will receive contributions by mail from throughout the county.

As in the past, American Legion posts will be asked to stage "crock of dimes" drives to aid the campaign and school superintendents will be requested to allow fund - raising among students, Brian said.

Home Demonstration Group Sets Election

The newly - organized Home Demonstration Group of the Columbiana County Extension Service will elect officers at a meeting Tuesday at 1 p. m.

It will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert Thompson of the Cannons Mills - Calcutta Rd. The group will also discuss forthcoming projects.

Women interested in joining may attend the meeting or call Mrs. John Boyd, acting chairman, at FU. 5-5498.

2 Officials Resign From Labor League

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland Federation of Labor, and John J. McGinty, assistant executive secretary, have resigned from the Cleveland Federated League, a political organization.

Their resignations came at the request of AFL-CIO President George Meany, the AFL-CIO reported Thursday. Finegan's handling of union funds is being investigated by AFL-CIO auditors, following his guilty plea to charges of federal income tax evasion.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS
Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the Fiscal Officer of the City of East Liverpool, herein referred to as the municipality, in the County of Columbiana, Ohio, at his office in the Municipal Hall in the municipality, the address of which is 130 West Sixth Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 4th day of December, 1961, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $36,700, authorized by ordinance passed October 16, 1961. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Street Improvement Bonds."
Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bond No. 1 which shall be in the denomination of $1,700, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of 3% per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.
Said bonds mature as follows: $7,700 on December 1, 1963; $8,000 on December 1, 1964; and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1965 to 1967, inclusive.
Said bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion ($29,098.85) and the City's portion ($7,601.15) of the cost of improving certain streets and alleys between certain termini by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.
Said bonds are payable at the office of the City Treasurer, East Liverpool, Ohio, and are supported by limited taxes and special assessments.
Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.
The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes or special assessments for their payment.
In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.
It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at eight o'clock p.m. on the 4th day of December, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.
The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the municipality the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.
Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.
If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default or any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.
The right is reserved to reject bids.

NOTICE OF SALE OF BONDS
Sealed bids will be received by the undersigned, the Fiscal Officer of the City of East Liverpool, herein referred to as the municipality, in the County of Columbiana, Ohio, at his office in the Municipal Hall in the municipality, the address of which is 130 West Sixth Street, East Liverpool, Ohio, until twelve noon, Eastern Standard Time, on the 4th day of December, 1961, at which time the bids will be publicly opened and read, for the purchase of bonds of the municipality in the aggregate amount of $36,700, authorized by ordinance passed October 16, 1961. Bids shall be sealed and endorsed "Bid for Street Improvement Bonds."
Said bonds shall be dated the first day of December, 1961, shall be in the denomination of $1,000 each, except bond No. 1 which shall be in the denomination of $1,700, shall draw interest payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each year beginning June 1, 1962, at the rate of 3% per annum. Anyone desiring to do so may present a bid for said bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest, but not in excess of 6% provided that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-eighth of one per cent or a multiple thereof.
Said bonds mature as follows: $7,700 on December 1, 1963; $8,000 on December 1, 1964; and $7,000 on December 1 in each of the years from 1965 to 1967, inclusive.
Said bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments heretofore levied to pay the property owners' portion ($29,098.85) and the City's portion ($7,601.15) of the cost of improving certain streets and alleys between certain termini by constructing therein a sanitary sewer of hard burned vitrified sewer pipe.
Said bonds are payable at the office of the City Treasurer, East Liverpool, Ohio, and are supported by limited taxes and special assessments.
Said bids will be promptly considered, and said bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to stated maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom the premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of said highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check, or certified check, payable to the municipality, or any combination thereof, aggregating one per cent of the par amount of the bonds bid for, upon condition that if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for such bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for such bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the municipality unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.
The proceedings for this issue have been taken under the supervision of Squire, Sanders & Dempsey, Bond Attorneys, Cleveland, Ohio, whose approving opinion may be obtained by the successful bidder at his expense. A complete transcript of proceedings and the printed bonds will be furnished by the municipality, together with a certificate showing no litigation pending or threatened at the time of the delivery, to enjoin delivery or to contest the validity of the bonds or the power to issue them or the levy or collection of taxes or special assessments for their payment.
In the event the interest on said bonds should by act of Congress or otherwise become subject to Federal Income Taxes prior to delivery, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bond or certified check shall be returned without interest.
It is contemplated that the legislative authority of the municipality will meet at eight o'clock p.m. on the 4th day of December, 1961, to consider said bids and make an award.
The bonds will be delivered at the office of the undersigned, or such other place as may be agreed on with the successful bidder; if outside of the limits of the municipality the bidder shall pay expense of delivery at that place.
Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery the municipality shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the third day before the proposed tender, of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no - litigation certificate, and approving opinion will be available for delivery and giving the date and hour for the tender at the said place of delivery, provided however that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.
If such notice has not been given by the municipality or waived by the successful bidder and the bonds transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion are not available for delivery to the successful bidder at such place of delivery on or before 12:00 o'clock noon of the 30th calendar day after the day fixed for the receipt of bids, and the successful bidder shall not be in default or any of his obligations, he shall have the right thereafter and so long as no such tender by the municipality shall yet have been made, to cancel the contract of purchase; such right to be exercised by delivering to the undersigned (or to his office during business hours) written notice of such cancellation. Such bidder shall thereupon be entitled to the return of the deposit which accompanied his bid and it shall be returned to him immediately.
The right is reserved to reject bids.

FOR SALE
(BECAUSE)

BECAUSE the owner travels a lot in his work, doesn't have too much free time to devote to this nice duplex on upper Thompson Ave. It has separate entrances, two gas furnaces, basement, and will provide a good income for you plus a nice ground floor apartment to live in. $10 500

BECAUSE—The lady who owns this home at 449 Sarah St. finds it necessary to live with her daughter out of town and refuses to rent it. It is one story, financed G. I. at 4½% with payments of $53 per month, total $8,500

BECAUSE—This lady has a nice three bedroom home with single garage and close to town which is much too large for her and two small children, thus she must sell at less than was paid for it a few years ago. $7,900 with financing which will be attractive. RAVINE ST.

BECAUSE—This exceptionally nice and well-located home on the Northside with its two baths, wall to wall carpeting, new maple kitchen, patios, etc. just isn't large enough for the owner. In fine condition and just $11,700

BECAUSE — This nice Maplewood home, one story, three bedrooms, large lot, gas furnace, unusual living room, will not be needed by the owner who has entered the ministry and transferred. His loss is your gain. $11,900

BECAUSE—The folks who own this nice three bedroom two year old home on one of the nicest streets in La Croft want to live closer to their relatives. This home is frame but very new and has just about everything you dream about. $13,500

BECAUSE—The owners of this Perma Stone home at 1183 Lisbon St. both work and they are driving farther than they should each day. The home is ultra modern, roomy, carpeted wall to wall, full basement, not a thing needs to be done to it. Reduced to much less than their actual investment. $15,750 for quick sale.

BECAUSE—Winter will soon be here and the owner is moving to his home in town real soon, he is offering this wonderful Glenmoor home (colonial style) with it's excellent grounds and facilities such as two water systems, large recreation room, tiled bath, gas hot water heat, garage, and about an acre of ground for $17,500

(BECAUSE)

BECAUSE the owner travels a lot in his work, doesn't have too much free time to devote to this nice duplex on upper Thompson Ave. It has separate entrances, two gas furnaces, basement, and will provide a good income for you plus a nice ground floor apartment to live in. $10 500

BECAUSE—The lady who owns this home at 449 Sarah St. finds it necessary to live with her daughter out of town and refuses to rent it. It is one story, financed G. I. at 4½% with payments of $53 per month, total $8,500

BECAUSE—This lady has a nice three bedroom home with single garage and close to town which is much too large for her and two small children, thus she must sell at less than was paid for it a few years ago. $7,900 with financing which will be attractive. RAVINE ST.

BECAUSE—This exceptionally nice and well-located home on the Northside with its two baths, wall to wall carpeting, new maple kitchen, patios, etc. just isn't large enough for the owner. In fine condition and just $11,700

BECAUSE — This nice Maplewood home, one story, three bedrooms, large lot, gas furnace, unusual living room, will not be needed by the owner who has entered the ministry and transferred. His loss is your gain. $11,900

BECAUSE—The folks who own this nice three bedroom two year old home on one of the nicest streets in La Croft want to live closer to their relatives. This home is frame but very new and has just about everything you dream about. $13,500

BECAUSE—The owners of this Perma Stone home at 1183 Lisbon St. both work and they are driving farther than they should each day. The home is ultra modern, roomy, carpeted wall to wall, full basement, not a thing needs to be done to it. Reduced to much less than their actual investment. $15,750 for quick sale.

BECAUSE—Winter will soon be here and the owner is moving to his home in town real soon, he is offering this wonderful Glenmoor home (colonial style) with it's excellent grounds and facilities such as two water systems, large recreation room, tiled bath, gas hot water heat, garage, and about an acre of ground for $17,500

Stern Penalties Threatened For Assaults On Policemen

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff served notice from the bench today that he will deal severely with persons accused of assaulting or abusing police officers in uniform.

He issued the warning after imposing a 30-day County Jail sentence and a fine of $15 and costs on a 30-year-old Wellsville man accused of attempting to strike Patrolman Charles A. Winters Thursday afternoon after the officer had placed him under arrest for intoxication and failure to pay a restaurant bill.

Harry Grimm, 417 Buckeye Ave., pleaded "no contest" on both counts, but was convicted on the testimony of the officer.

The jail sentence was meted out for alleged violation of a state law covering "resisting, abusing and obstructing a police officer in the discharge of his duties."

The judge pointed out he gave a 30-day term yesterday to a man accused of kicking Patrolman Paul Carter, also during an arrest for intoxication.

"The court takes a dim view of anyone who resists an officer," Judge Chertoff said. "Drunkenness is no excuse. I don't want to see the flag at City Hall flying at half staff because some officer was killed while doing his duty."

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper also urged the court to "deal severely" with the defendant. He said that "it is a serious offense to strike an officer in uniform."

Grimm told the judge he was drunk and did not realize that he attempted to strike the officer when he was placed under arrest about 3:45 p. m. yesterday on the Diamond.

Patrolman Winters said he was sent to Ann's Restaurant on the Diamond to investigate a report of a disturbance. When he arrived, Steve Sfakis, the proprietor, pointed out Grimm as the patron who had caused a disturbance and then walked out, refusing to pay a bill for $3.09, the officer said.

When Grimm was placed under arrest, he struck at the officer, Winters testified. He said he wrestled Grimm to the pavement and then took him to headquarters, with the defendant shouting and screaming along the way.

Boy, 14, Is Killed When Car Overturns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old Miami County boy was killed Thursday night when the car he was in went out of control and crashed, overturned and rolled on top of him.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the youth as James Phillip McRoy, 14, of Covington.

The accident occurred near Covington on Sugar Grove Road 2¼ miles south of Ohio 7. The patrol said the car went off the left side of the road, rolled over several times and smashed into a utility pole. McRoy was thrown out.

Youth Injured In Car Stolen From Chester

A 20 - year - old Pennsylvanian, who allegedly stole a salesman's car in Chester to return home after picking apples at an area farm, was critically injured Thursday afternoon when the 1961 sedan crashed into a utility pole, Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie reported.

Roy Cain of Clairton is hospitalized at the Ohio Valley Hospital in McKees Rocks with a fractured back and crushed chest suffered when he lost control of the compact on a curve on Route 30, about five miles west of Clinton, while traveling at a high rate of speed, state police said.

The compact owned by the Buckeye Biscuit Co. of Akron was demolished. The scene of the crash is about three miles east of Hillendale in Beaver County.

Police said Cain, who had no driver's license, stole the auto in which the keys had been left in the ignition while Arthur Edelheit of Youngstown, salesman of the Akron firm, made deliveries.

The auto was parked on Carolina Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts. and was taken about 1 p. m., Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens said

Learning of the crash, Lennens asked Pennsylvania State Police to place a detainer on Cain and notified the Wheeling office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the theft.

Midland Unit's Firm Expands At Pittsburgh

Recent installation of four large roll annealing furnaces at the Pittsburgh plant of E. W. Bliss Co.'s Mackintosh-Hemphill Division represents a major step in a general expansion program that will increase the plant's capacity 25 per cent, according to C. E. Peterson, divisional general manager, at Canton.

The four natural-gas-fired annealers range from 23 to 32 feet long. All are 9 feet wide and 8 feet high. Together, they can anneal up to 600,000 pounds of cast iron mill rolls simultaneously. The Bliss Mackintosh - Hemphill Division, which has a plant at Midland, is the nation's oldest producer of cast iron and cast steel mill rolls.

4 Elected Directors Of Beekeepers Group

LISBON — Four were elected to the Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Beekeepers Association at the annual meeting Thursday evening at the Midway Grange Hall.

Charles Vincent of Salem R. D. 4, Leroy Schweitzer of East Palestine R. D. 2, Earl Hamilton of Lisbon R. D. 1 and Eldon Kerr of Homeworth R. D. 1 were chosen.

Charles Lewis of Akron, president of the Ohio Beekeepers Association, spoke on the activities of the state organization and discussed some of his own bee practices.

William Marty of East Palestine, county inspector, said he inspected 330 apiaries with 2,057 colonies in the county and found only 213 hives with American foulbrood.

Richard Howenstine of Alliance R. D. 1, president, presided and 50 members and guests were present.

Aerospace Unit Open To District Students

Local Air Force representative, Sgt. James Lee, announced that the new Aerospace Force Navigator School has enlarged its classes permitting a greater number of students to enter the course.

The navigator program, long one of the most popular offered by the Air Force, is now virtually open to anyone with at least a high school education who can pass the mental and physical examinations.

Applicants must be between 19 and 26½, must possess a diploma from an accredited high school and must be single. Some college is desirable.

PTA At Chester Names Leader Of Brownie Troop

Mrs. Burton Ward was named leader of a Brownie Troop sponsored by the Washington Home and School Association at a meeting Thursday night at the Chester school.

Dale Hoyt was appointed institutional representative for Cub Pack 25, also sponsored by the group.

Miss Helen Allison, principal, announced there will be a meeting for mothers of primary students Dec. 5 at the school to explain a new system of grading.

Plans were made to sell Christmas candy for project money.

Mrs. Howard Matthew of Chester screened color slides of a trip to Europe last summer. The attendance banner was won by the third grade taught by Mrs. Grace Evarts.

Refreshments were served 40 by Mrs. Richard Milner and committee. Mrs. Lloyd Mansfield, president, was in charge. Next meeting is Dec. 14.

Big Bomb Estimated At 55-60 Megatons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission now estimates that the big Soviet bomb exploded in the atmosphere Oct. 30 was in the 55 to 60 megaton range.

Group Visits Hospital

LISBON — Six women in a prenatal clinic sponsored by the County Health Department made a visit Thursday afternoon to the delivery rooms and nurseries at Salem City Hospital and Central Clinic. Mrs. Violet Peterson, health department nurse, is the instructor.

Council To Hear Plans For Crossing Repairs

Officials of the Western Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. at Pittsburgh today notified Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper that they will confer in caucus with Council Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. to explain plans for repair of East Liverpool crossings.

Owen has been pressing the rail officials for several months to resume negotiations over repair of crossings here. The last meeting was held early this year to discuss improvements in safety controls at the Walnut St. crossing after a man was killed and another was injured seriously when an auto was struck by a freight.

Cooper said the Pennsy officials did not explain specifically what repairs are contemplated, but said they wish to advise Council of their plans.

Stern Penalties Threatened For Assaults On Policemen

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff served notice from the bench today that he will deal severely with persons accused of assaulting or abusing police officers in uniform.

He issued the warning after imposing a 30-day County Jail sentence and a fine of $15 and costs on a 30-year-old Wellsville man accused of attempting to strike Patrolman Charles A. Winters Thursday afternoon after the officer had placed him under arrest for intoxication and failure to pay a restaurant bill.

Harry Grimm, 417 Buckeye Ave., pleaded "no contest" on both counts, but was convicted on the testimony of the officer.

The jail sentence was meted out for alleged violation of a state law covering "resisting, abusing and obstructing a police officer in the discharge of his duties."

The judge pointed out he gave a 30-day term yesterday to a man accused of kicking Patrolman Paul Carter, also during an arrest for intoxication.

"The court takes a dim view of anyone who resists an officer," Judge Chertoff said. "Drunkenness is no excuse. I don't want to see the flag at City Hall flying at half staff because some officer was killed while doing his duty."

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper also urged the court to "deal severely" with the defendant. He said that "it is a serious offense to strike an officer in uniform."

Grimm told the judge he was drunk and did not realize that he attempted to strike the officer when he was placed under arrest about 3:45 p. m. yesterday on the Diamond.

Patrolman Winters said he was sent to Ann's Restaurant on the Diamond to investigate a report of a disturbance. When he arrived, Steve Sfakis, the proprietor, pointed out Grimm as the patron who had caused a disturbance and then walked out, refusing to pay a bill for $3.09, the officer said.

When Grimm was placed under arrest, he struck at the officer, Winters testified. He said he wrestled Grimm to the pavement and then took him to headquarters, with the defendant shouting and screaming along the way.

Boy, 14, Is Killed When Car Overturns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old Miami County boy was killed Thursday night when the car he was in went out of control and crashed, overturned and rolled on top of him.

The Ohio Highway Patrol identified the youth as James Phillip McRoy, 14, of Covington.

The accident occurred near Covington on Sugar Grove Road 2¼ miles south of Ohio 7. The patrol said the car went off the left side of the road, rolled over several times and smashed into a utility pole. McRoy was thrown out.

Youth Injured In Car Stolen From Chester

A 20 - year - old Pennsylvanian, who allegedly stole a salesman's car in Chester to return home after picking apples at an area farm, was critically injured Thursday afternoon when the 1961 sedan crashed into a utility pole, Pennsylvania State Police at Carnegie reported.

Roy Cain of Clairton is hospitalized at the Ohio Valley Hospital in McKees Rocks with a fractured back and crushed chest suffered when he lost control of the compact on a curve on Route 30, about five miles west of Clinton, while traveling at a high rate of speed, state police said.

The compact owned by the Buckeye Biscuit Co. of Akron was demolished. The scene of the crash is about three miles east of Hillendale in Beaver County.

Police said Cain, who had no driver's license, stole the auto in which the keys had been left in the ignition while Arthur Edelheit of Youngstown, salesman of the Akron firm, made deliveries.

The auto was parked on Carolina Ave. between 4th and 5th Sts. and was taken about 1 p. m., Chester Patrolman Clarence Lennens said

Learning of the crash, Lennens asked Pennsylvania State Police to place a detainer on Cain and notified the Wheeling office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the theft.

Midland Unit's Firm Expands At Pittsburgh

Recent installation of four large roll annealing furnaces at the Pittsburgh plant of E. W. Bliss Co.'s Mackintosh-Hemphill Division represents a major step in a general expansion program that will increase the plant's capacity 25 per cent, according to C. E. Peterson, divisional general manager, at Canton.

The four natural-gas-fired annealers range from 23 to 32 feet long. All are 9 feet wide and 8 feet high. Together, they can anneal up to 600,000 pounds of cast iron mill rolls simultaneously. The Bliss Mackintosh - Hemphill Division, which has a plant at Midland, is the nation's oldest producer of cast iron and cast steel mill rolls.

4 Elected Directors Of Beekeepers Group

LISBON — Four were elected to the Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Beekeepers Association at the annual meeting Thursday evening at the Midway Grange Hall.

Charles Vincent of Salem R. D. 4, Leroy Schweitzer of East Palestine R. D. 2, Earl Hamilton of Lisbon R. D. 1 and Eldon Kerr of Homeworth R. D. 1 were chosen.

Charles Lewis of Akron, president of the Ohio Beekeepers Association, spoke on the activities of the state organization and discussed some of his own bee practices.

William Marty of East Palestine, county inspector, said he inspected 330 apiaries with 2,057 colonies in the county and found only 213 hives with American foulbrood.

Richard Howenstine of Alliance R. D. 1, president, presided and 50 members and guests were present.

Aerospace Unit Open To District Students

Local Air Force representative, Sgt. James Lee, announced that the new Aerospace Force Navigator School has enlarged its classes permitting a greater number of students to enter the course.

The navigator program, long one of the most popular offered by the Air Force, is now virtually open to anyone with at least a high school education who can pass the mental and physical examinations.

Applicants must be between 19 and 26½, must possess a diploma from an accredited high school and must be single. Some college is desirable.

PTA At Chester Names Leader Of Brownie Troop

Mrs. Burton Ward was named leader of a Brownie Troop sponsored by the Washington Home and School Association at a meeting Thursday night at the Chester school.

Dale Hoyt was appointed institutional representative for Cub Pack 25, also sponsored by the group.

Miss Helen Allison, principal, announced there will be a meeting for mothers of primary students Dec. 5 at the school to explain a new system of grading.

Plans were made to sell Christmas candy for project money.

Mrs. Howard Matthew of Chester screened color slides of a trip to Europe last summer. The attendance banner was won by the third grade taught by Mrs. Grace Evarts.

Refreshments were served 40 by Mrs. Richard Milner and committee. Mrs. Lloyd Mansfield, president, was in charge. Next meeting is Dec. 14.
